

NIGHT EDITION PRISONER ON STAND LARCENY CHARGED

GIVEN TO THE JURY

Charge of Judge Fox in Case of Paradis and Powers vs. Long

The cases of Paradis and Powers vs. Long went to the jury this morning, Judge Fox delivering his charge to the jury shortly after the opening of court.

Judge Fox, in opening, explained the plaintiff's declarations, and then spoke in part as follows:

The question is whether these articles were defamatory, while in some of them the question is whether these two plaintiffs were referred to. In the articles in which the names of the plaintiffs appear, the defendant claims that the articles are true and if true and written without malice they are not libelous. The defendant also claims privilege, but the doctrine of privilege does not come into the case. The fact that these men appeared as witnesses at the police board hearing gives the newspaper no special privilege to criticize them. The counsel in the case have absolute freedom in discussing the case. But it is not the province of a newspaper to try cases instead of a court and jury. If a newspaper said that a witness was lying it might not only be a libel, but it might be brought in for contempt of court. So much for the doctrine of privilege. There is no privilege in this case.

If the articles do not defame these plaintiffs there is no libel, for the newspaper may refer to witnesses in a case as long as it does not defame them. Defamatory means submitting one to ridicule, hatred or contempt.

Dr. Crippen Matches Wits With Clever
Government Lawyer

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Dr. Hawley Crippen matched wits today with Richard Muir, one of the cleverest criminal lawyers in England.

The fact that the defendant was to undergo a cross-examination by this representative of the crown increased interest in the proceedings and when Lord Chief Justice Alverstone entered the New Bailey courtroom and the prisoner at the same time took his place in the dock the spectators were already in their seats.

Before Crippen re-entered the witness box from which he gave his direct testimony, the lord chief justice announced that at its own request the jury would be allowed later in the day to examine microscopically the skin from the part found in the Lillidrop Crescent cellar, which bears, it is alleged by the prosecution, a scar such as Belle Elmore received from a surgeon's knife twelve years ago. The defense claims that there is no scar, but that what appears to be such was caused by a fold in the skin.

Although the steamer Montrose is at sea, the quartermaster who Crippen testified entered into a conspiracy to hide him during the flight to Canada, is still in London and Mr. Muir had a long talk with him last night.

When Crippen was escorted to the witness box Mr. Muir promptly asked him whether he had seen or heard anything of his wife since early on the morning of February 1. The witness replied in the negative and in answer to further questions that were rapidly fired at him said that he could not prove any fact showing that she left the house alive. He supposed she had gone to Bruce Miller, her professional acquaintance, who lives in Chicago. That was the only guess he could make. He made no inquiries. The witness

Witness said he was laid off on account of his arrest and found it hard to get a job. In prison he was kept in a cell with another man. After his acquittal he heard the clerk tell another man that he had to accuse some one of taking the potatoes, to hold his job, and that all are liable to make mistakes.

DEATHS

HARD—Sarah Frances Whittier Hard, wife of William H. Hard, died at her late home, 213 Gibson street, this city, Thursday morning, Oct. 20.

She was born in Wells, Me., and had lived in this city since her childhood, and was known and loved by hosts of friends for her kindly and cheerful nature. She had the rare and happy faculty of giving out a warm and cheery sympathy. She was of the sterling New England type, uniting a mind of unusual keenness and natural shrewdness with a sparkling wit. She had always been a loving wife, a devoted mother, and a faithful and untiring worker in the Grace Universalist church, bearing an active part in its labors and social interests.

For many years during her life she was a faithful and untiring worker in the Grace Universalist church, bearing an active part in its labors and social interests.

She lived a useful, busy, helpful life, generous, kindly and sympathetic. She died bravely, leaving to those who loved her a heritage of happy, cheerful recollections of her life and rare worth.

She is survived by her husband, William H. Hard, by three daughters, Lillian Hard, Lillian Whittier Hard and Mrs. James Stuart Murphy, of this city, and by one son, C. Fred Hard of New York city; also by four grandchildren, Miriam B. Portia L. Marjory E. and Stuart Hard Murphy.

DEANE—Edward F. Deane, for the past 35 years a member of St. Patrick's parish and a well known resident, died suddenly at his home, 75 Fourth avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Deane was busily at work at the city blacksmith shop in the forenoon, where he had been employed for many years, but gave up shortly before noon, as he was not feeling well. On reaching home, a physician was called, who did his utmost to stay death, which came a few hours after. Mr. Deane is survived by a wife, Ann (three sons, Daniel F., Edward T. and Henry J. Deane; one daughter, Mrs. Michael J. Larkin; seven brothers and one sister. He was a member of the local union of blacksmiths.

MARENEILL—Mary Mareneill, aged 24 years, former resident of Lowell, died last evening at the Eliot hospital. Keene, N. H. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband James, and two sisters, Mrs. Bernard Kane and Mrs. William Fennell, both of Lowell. The remains will be brought to this city to meet for funeral services by Undertakers Jas. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

TARBELL—Died this morning at the residence of his niece, Mrs. George L. Van Dusen, 1029 Middlesex street, Allen B. Tarbell, aged 75 years, 4 months and 21 days. The deceased was a resident of Peterboro, N. H.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS

said that he last saw his wife between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning of February 1, when they retired as usual. That morning he prepared, his own breakfast. Returning home in the evening he found that Mrs. Crippen had disappeared, as she had threatened to do. He made no inquiries regarding the passengers listed on vessels sailing for America nor had he since suggested that inquiries regarding the whereabouts of his wife should be made.

Mr. Muir suggested that if the witness' wife were alive she would call upon her sisters in the United States. Crippen's reply to this was that if his wife had gone with another man she would not have the "face" to go to her sisters. This opinion from the witness box drew forth a chorus of "O's" from the spectators.

The doctor could not say whether his wife took any of her furs with her or if she had any quantity of furs and dresses.

Belle Elmore's Jewelry

Regarding the disposition of Belle Elmore's jewelry the witness said that he considered that he was quite entitled to tell Inspector Dew that he had not pawned his wife's valuables, as these had been purchased with his money and he considered them his. He had used the proceeds of the sale to pay for advertising. He did not know what cash his wife had at the time she left him.

"I asked her," said the witness "if she wanted any money. She replied 'No, nothing'."

Regarding her letters and statements to Belle Elmore's friends and statements to the public, Crippen admitted that he had made up his mind to play the role of a bereaved husband. He thought that he played the part pretty well.

The witness suggested that it was possible that the human parts found in the cellar of his home had been placed there during a periodical absence of himself and wife.

To Establish New Home

The cross examination developed that Miss Leneve, the doctor's typist, who is now charged as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mrs. Crippen had slept in the house on the night of Feb. 2, within 24 hours after his wife had disappeared. Witness said that he resolved to go away on July 9 after realizing that suspicion had been directed against him. He feared that he might be jailed until she was found. He wished also to spare Miss Leneve, whom he persuaded to disguise herself and quit London by explaining that the statement he had made to Inspector Dew involved her as well as himself. He told the girl that there would be a scandal and that if his wife were not located there would be trouble. The only way of escape was for both to start a new home together abroad.

Crippen was under cross examination for practically four hours. Throughout that time he was the impersonation of coolness. He responded to the rapidly put and searching questions promptly, sometimes smilingly and always in a calm tone of voice such as would be natural to a man ready to explain a series of events concerning which he has nothing to hide.

When the defendant was excused from the box Dr. Turnbull, director of the pathological institute of the Gordon hospital, was called as the next witness for the defense. He bluntly testified that the so-called scar of the body of the victim could not possibly be a scar.

Defendant Pleaded Guilty and Offered to Make Settlement

Thrasivoulas Protopapas was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $86 from "Jeron Tagma." The quoted words are Greek and in English mean the holy regiment, a semi-military organization connected with the Greek Orthodox church at the corner of Lewis and Jefferson streets.

The defendant at first denied his guilt but afterwards acknowledged that he was guilty and agreed to make a settlement and the court decided to continue the case in order to give the man a chance to settle.

Protopapas was a collector for the "Jeron Tagma," and according to the testimony offered and later according to his admission, he collected the amount of money mentioned in the complaint and failed to turn it over to the treasurer. He promised to restore the money and was given plenty of chance to do so but failed, which resulted in his arrest.

The complaint was made by Michael Broutos, the secretary of the organization, but the only witness heard was Rev. Costos H. Demetri, pastor of the Greek Orthodox church. He explained to the court that the defendant was a collector for the society and received money which he had failed to turn over to the treasurer (the witness). Books, letters, papers, interpretations and check books were brought into evidence to prove the government's case.

After the clergyman had finished his testimony, counsel for the defense stated that his client admitted his guilt but would like to settle the matter. The court was agreeable and asked the defendant how much he could pay a week. Protopapas said that he is earning but $6.75 per week at the present time, but would agree to pay $2 a week until the debt was liquidated. The court thought that that was a rather small sum and would take a long time to even up matters, therefore he decided to continue the case for a week in order to give the defendant a chance to make some arrangement for settlement.

Non-Support

Louis Leclair was charged with non-support. His wife told a pitiful tale to the court and as a result the defendant was sentenced to three months in jail.

Drunken Offenders

William E. Brady, who was on parole from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. Mary E. Bradley was in a bad condition and the court deemed it advisable to send her to jail for ten days.

James A. Kade, Michael J. Turner, John E. Lawson, Edward Mason and George Hayden, charged with being drunk, were found guilty and each ordered to pay a fine of $6. There were some first offenders who were fined $2, and several simple drunks were released before the opening of court.

AGED PRIEST DEAD

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 21—The Rev. Louis Le Tournau, the oldest priest at Notre Dame university, is dead at the age of 82. Rev. Father Le Tournau was a priest at Notre Dame for more than half a century. His parents came to this country from France in the early days of the last century. They became wealthy and as a young priest he inherited much money which he devoted entirely to charity. One of his gifts to Notre Dame was Corby hall.

GAME POSTPONED

Rain Interfered With Philadelphia-
Chicago Contest Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Not grounds and a drizzling intermittent rain caused a postponement today of the fourth scheduled world's championship game between the Philadelphia Americans and the Chicago Nationals. It will be played off here tomorrow. Should Chicago win, the fifth game will be fought out on the local grounds also.

Chairman Herrmann made the announcement after the examination of the grounds by the umpires who found that the base lines were small rivulets and the whole field saturated.

Averages of players and teams based on the three games already played show a big margin in favor of the Athletics. The latter have scored 35 runs to their opponents' nine; they have made 34 hits for a total of 53 bases, as against Chicago's 17 hits for 24 bases. They have batted an average of .366, compared with .189 by their rivals. In fielding the Nationals are six points behind the Americans, their respective percentages being .344 and .350.

ORVAL OVERALL
SAYS HE HAS PITCHED HIS LAST
BIG LEAGUE GAME

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Orval Overall, who has been one of the Chicago Nationals' star pitchers for several seasons, announced last night that he had pitched his last big league game. "I don't mean that I won't work again in this series," said Overall. "I will if Chances wishes me to, but I won't be a pitcher on the Cub team or any other club next year. I am not going to quit because of anything that has happened in this series or at any time this season. I am just tired of the job and I don't want any more of it."

"I like baseball and would be glad to play any other position. If some one will try me as an outfielder, a catcher, or a first baseman, I may decide to stick to the game a while longer."

BIG LEAGUERS
TO MEET IN GAME AT PORTLAND
TODAY

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 21.—An American league baseball team under Harry Lord played a team composed of men who have been playing in minor and major league teams this summer at Blue Tree park this afternoon. The players were expected to appear as follows:

Parent, ss; Collins, 1b; Ferris, 2b; Madden, c; Young, p.

Major and minor leaguers—Phelan, 1b; Catterton, rf; Rawson, 2b; Chadbourne, lf; Barrows, cf; Merrill, 3b; Joyce-Wormwood, ss; Carrigan, c; Walsh, p.

48 BALLS LESS THROWN
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Just 48 balls less were thrown by the opposing pitchers in yesterday's world's series than in Tuesday's game in Philadelphia. Coombs, who was wild on his home grounds, was more steady and delivered 120 balls, compared with 161 on Tuesday, and 122 hurled by Bender on Monday. The Chicago pitchers in the opening game of the series threw only 101 balls to the batsmen compared with 149 on Tuesday and 152 yesterday.

YOUNG BRITT WON
BALTIMORE, Oct. 21.—At the end of a 10 round bout, reduced from 15 rounds, before the National Athletic club last night, Referee Charlie White gave Young Britt of this city the decision over Jimmy Dunn of New York.

THE NAME OF FOSS

Will Appear Twice on the Ballot on Election Day

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Eugene N. Foss will make his first speech in the campaign for governor tomorrow evening at Tremont temple, when the state ticket will be ratified by a rousing meeting.

Sherman L. Whipple of Brookline, one of the best known lawyers in the state, will preside, so it was announced last evening by John F. McDonald, chairman of the executive committee of the state committee.

There will also be speeches by Chas. S. Hamlin and James H. Vahey, besides addresses by Mayor Fitzgerald and Thomas P. Riley of Malden.

Rallies all over the state are being arranged for by the democratic state committee and by the first of the week Chairman McDonald hopes to get the state campaign into a lively gait.

As "Progressive Democratic" The nomination of Eugene N. Foss as "progressive democratic" candidate for governor was not withdrawn from the office of the secretary of state yesterday afternoon, and as the time for such withdrawal expired at 5 p. m. Mr. Foss' name must appear on the official ballot under two designations—democratic and progressive democratic.

It will be optional with Mr. Foss as to the order in which they appear, but in the absence of a direction from him to the contrary the secretary will probably place the regular democratic nomination ahead of that secured by nomination papers.

Danger in Two Designations

There is a provision of the statute which defines the "two leading political parties" to be those having the largest and next largest number of votes cast for their respective candidates for governor, and it is here, it is all, that the democratic party may lose, as it is possible that Mr. Foss may attract more votes as a "democratic progressive" than as a plain "democrat."

Should this be the case, the "democratic progressive" party, instead of the "democratic" party, would be entitled to its share of such patronage as the law says shall go to each of the two leading parties.

As the time for making changes in the state ticket expired at 5 o'clock last night, it is now certain for the first time just how the state ticket will be made up.

It appears that there will be five candidates, under six designations, for governor; five candidates for each of the offices of lieutenant governor, secretary of the commonwealth and treasurer and receiver general; four candidates for auditor and the same number for attorney general.

THE STATE TICKET

The names of the candidates and the order in which they will appear on the official ballot are as follows:

TELEPHONE ALARM

At a few moments after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a part of the fire department was summoned by telephone to a fire on Stanley street. The fire was quickly extinguished with slight loss to the property.

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of over-work without good, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil. After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Being made without alcohol, this "Medical Discovery" helps the stomach to assimilate the food, thereby curing dyspepsia. It is especially adapted to diseases attended with excessive tissue waste, notably in convalescence from various fevers, for thin-blooded people and those who are always "catching cold."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps for the French cloth-bound book of 1008 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR THE Y. M. C. A.

Sum of $1,000,000
Was Contributed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Contributions of one million dollars for the world wide expansion of the Young Men's Christian association, $540,000 of which was given by John D. Rockefeller, were announced yesterday at the conference of Young Men's Christian association workers in the East room of the White House. President Taft addressed the delegates and heartily endorsed the organization.

Mr. Rockefeller's gift tendered on the condition that a like amount be raised, was met by contributions from many prominent laymen interested in the movement, among them John W. Wanamaker, Cleveland H. Dodge, of New York, who pledged funds for two buildings in the Levant; S. W. Woodward of Washington $35,000 for a building in Kobe, Japan; James Stokes and an unknown donor $100,000 for a building at Moscow; John Penman of Park, Ontario, $50,000 for a building at Hankow, China; John W. Ross, for the Montreal Y. M. C. A., $10,000 for a building at Canton, China; Dupont Clark, Jr., funds for a building at Bangalore, India, and citizens of Buffalo, $35,000 for buildings at Tokio.

Mr. Wanamaker offered to erect another building in China besides five foreign association buildings already given by him.

The subject of the conference was extension of the movement into the Far East, the near east, and into Latin America.

More than 200 laymen from 21 states and Canada were present and were welcomed by President Taft who gave the expansion project his earnest approval and pledged to it his active support.

Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, outlined a program for expansion of the movement. The plan involves the addition of fifty experts in the far east during the next three years to direct the policy, the erection of 43 buildings in ten nations to pro-sets of teeth absolutely defy detection.

Your local dentist will charge you about four times as much as I would—he doesn't do much business, so he must "get it out of you"; besides he does not know how to do it painlessly, and, in nine cases out of ten, he performs operations with old-fashioned instruments, which enable him to do only inferior work. My inventions I control solely, and when anything new comes out I buy it. Remember—my patrons get the latest and best, and for less money.

Best set Teeth $8, good set $5. Gold crowns $6, bridge work $6, gold fillings $1 up, other fillings 50c; painless extraction free when sets are ordered.

SECRETARY OLIN
SAYS THAT HE PAID OUT THE SUM OF $100

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Only one of five republicans and democratic candidates for nomination for offices to be voted for at the state election said anything to secure that nomination according to the returns of expenses which have been filed with the secretary of the commonwealth.

Sec. William M. Olin, republican candidate for reelection, is the sole exception. He reported that he "paid the republican state committee $100."

Those who paid nothing are: Gov. Draper, Lieut. Gov. Brothman, Treasurer Elmer A. Stevens, Auditor Henry E. Turner, Frederick W. Mansfield and Thomas P. Riley.

INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET
(Fall River Globe.)

The tournament conducted under the auspices of the International Aviation association will open at Belmont park, Long Island, on Saturday next and be continued for eight days. The event is one that is attracting world wide attention and some of the most noted aviators in this country and Europe will participate in the contest. Nothing in the history of aeronautics has approached the coming events in interest, with the flyers, as well as the public, because in addition to the international aviation trophy, captured by Glenn Curtiss at Rheims last year, which determines the speed championship of the world, the men will fly for $50,000 in cash prizes, and a large share of the profits of the tournament, after the necessary expenses are paid.

One special prize of $10,000 is offered for a flight from Belmont park around the statue of Liberty, another special prize of $5000 for the aviator who reaches, or exceeds, an altitude of 10,000 feet, and other special prizes besides the grand prizes for speed, distance, duration, etc.

Among those who are to enter in these events is John B. Moisant, a Chicagoan, but who has done all his flying in Europe and who recently came into prominence through having made a flight from France to London, taking his mechanic with him on the trip. Mr. Moisant is an enthusiast and foresees wonderful results following from the development of the aeroplane. Would that his predictions might be realized, for a man mankind would see the passing of wars and the people everywhere be relieved from the staggering burden of maintaining great and costly navies and armies.

Speaking of the future possibilities of the airship in an interview, he said: "It means the revolution of the world. It will mean the end of the war, for the aeroplane will render armies and navies useless. What would become of any army when a fleet of ten thousand or fifteen thousand aeroplanes, flying at the rate of one hundred miles an hour and at a height of two miles, suddenly swept through the sky, dropping a rain of nitro-glycerine? If the army should stand still it would mean its annihilation. But it would not stand. A panic would strike it that no human power could stop and it would become a disintegrated, fleeing, fear-maddened body. When aeroplanes reach such a stage in their development you will get no men to join your army or to board your battleships."

Thirtieth Anniversary Sale

A Sale That Will Surprise Lowell

A Sale of Interest to Every Man, Woman and Boy

A Sale That Will Crowd Our Store

20,000 in Bargains—$20,000 in Bargains

HISTORICAL

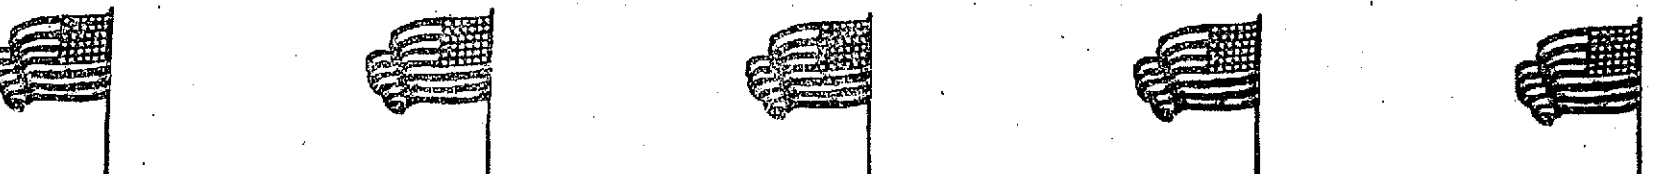

Thirty years ago we bought out the well known store of Wheeler & Son and commenced business in Lowell. In a few years we outgrew our store and took in the stores of T. R. Garrity & Co., and Frank E. Ferrin's Shoe Store and our business immediately doubled. In 1902 our store became too cramped up for our growing business and we hired the entire American House Block and commenced tremendous alterations. Taking out the second floor, making our store extremely high and building out in the rear almost 50 feet deeper. This gave us the lightest, brightest and biggest floor space in Lowell and the largest in New England (Clothing) with one exception.

THIRTY YEARS HAVE PASSED

And we stand at the head of the clothing business of Lowell. Thirty years at the American Block and thirty years of success—it's a record to be proud of—Now we are going to celebrate—Now we are going to cause a sensation—The biggest bargain sale ever attempted—Thirty years and the people of Lowell will remember and celebrate it with us, we propose to give

Our Second Waist Sale

WILL TAKE PLACE

Saturday Morning at 9 O'Clock

In our announcement of September 16th we promised the women of Lowell a series of waist sales—we held our first last month—and sold the entire lot, 468 waists, in about half the time allotted for the sale. Of course we lost money, but we accomplished our object—getting at least three hundred women wearing Merrimack Waists and they do not belong to the never-come-back club, because they have bought more waists since and paid regular prices, increasing our waist business about 40 per cent., which is our sole object in having these sales. We intend doing the waist business of Lowell, and know that once we get a woman to wear a Merrimack Waist she will never wear any other make.

Our second Waist Sale will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, and we will offer 963 of the best waists in our store in two lots, for SATURDAY ONLY—

Lot No. 1

360 ALL SILK WAISTS, in all colors and sizes, that are marked $5, $6, $7 and $8. Saturday at 9 A. M.

$2.95

These Waists will be displayed in our windows all day Friday, but will not go on sale until Saturday at 9 A. M.

Lot No. 2

603 WHITE LINEN and LAWN WAISTS, that are marked $1.50, $2, $3 and $4. Saturday at 9 A. M.

95c

The only restriction we will have to put on this sale is, that on account of the prices being so much under what they cost us at wholesale, we will limit each customer to 3 Waists and none will be sold or reserved before 9 A. M. Saturday

PANIC AVERTED

Children Marched Over Blazing Stairs

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—But for the presence of mind of Principal Lincoln Owen there would have been a panic at 2:25 yesterday afternoon in the Rice grammar school for girls and boys at Dartmouth and Appleton streets, south end, following the discovery of a fire in the basement on the southerly side of the structure.

A blaze which started among a pile of waste paper spread rapidly, igniting a portion of the ceiling in the basement and communicating to the woodwork under a stairway which leads to one of the exits on Dartmouth street.

While passing through the first floor the principal saw smoke rolling up the stairway. The teachers had smelled the smoke, glanced into the hallway and had seen the principal making his way toward where the smoke came from.

A moment later the signal for a fire drill was given by Mr. Owen and inside of two minutes every one of the 700 pupils had fallen into line and marched to the street in perfect order, taking positions which would not interfere with the firemen when they arrived, as Mr. Owen had given an alarm from box 2131, located on the outside of the building.

Several hundred of the children had to march directly down the stairway which was on fire. The flames had eaten their way through the woodwork close to the wall and the smoke was spurting through the crevices when the children, who happened to be the youngest of the pupils, swung out of the hallway in perfect order.

WOMEN REGISTER TO VOTE FOR TRUSTEES OF UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Four hundred and ninety women of Chicago registered yesterday. The votes of these, though enrolled, may be cast next month for candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois. The total falls short of the expectations of equal-suffrage agitators who had been conducting an "educational" campaign to bring members of their sex to the polls. All female enrollment was in 245 precincts, being less than one-fifth of the total precincts in the Chicago election districts.

In three wards—the fourth, eleventh and sixteenth—not a woman registered on either of the days when the books were open.

THE B. & M. ROAD

Will Not Contest the Rate in N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 21.—In response to the letter recently sent to Governor Quinby by President Mellen of the Boston & Maine railroad, announcing that the road would not further contest the rate now pending against it in this state, Governor Quinby yesterday wrote to President Mellen that he regarded his statement of the position of the Boston & Maine in this matter as absolutely candid and fair. Governor Quinby in his letter says:

"I believe the people of New Hampshire will be ready to meet you in the same spirit and agree to any equitable adjustment which will conduce to the prosperity of both state and corporation."

MILLS CLOSED

BECAUSE OF A SHORTAGE OF WATER

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 21.—On account of the low water in the Merrimack river, it being at a point lower than for several seasons at this time of the year, it has been found necessary to shut down a large portion of the Amoskeag manufacturing plant.

It has been found necessary to close the Langdon, Amory and Jefferson mills and No. 1 of the Manchester mills and about half of the worsted spinning plant on the southern division.

It will be necessary to close two days earlier the mills at the north end until there is sufficient water in the Merrimack river to operate them, running them only a portion of the day.

FREAK ROOSTER

THE CAUSE OF A SUIT IN NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 21.—On account of a rooster with four legs instead of two, Alfred Dion has brought suit by which he hopes to recover from Joseph Charon of Central Falls the sum of $400 and the bird in question.

Mr. Dion raised the rooster, and Mr. Charon offered to pay Mr. Dion $7 a week for the rent of the rooster to exhibit at the Brockton fair last year, a proposition to which the owner of the bird acceded, Mr. Charon agreeing, according to the plaintiff, to return the bird in a few weeks. But Charon never came back, nor did the rooster, and Mr. Dion was told that the rooster had died. New Bedford people, however, who went to the Brockton fair this year came back with tales of a four-legged rooster that was being exhibited for compensation at the fair, and Mr. Dion had reason to believe that the quadruped was his.

SCHOONER ABANDONED

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Mariners and harbor men rubbed their eyes in astonishment this morning when they beheld a vessel standing upright, high and dry, on Little Faun bay, close to the seawall near Hull. Later the craft was identified as the venerable schooner Nat Ayer of Bangor, Me., bound from the Penobscot city for Hingham with 140,000 feet of lumber. The schooner piled up on the bar during a stiff blow at 11:30 o'clock last night and as she rests on a bed of rocks it is regarded as probable that she has found her final resting place. The crew of five men abandoned the old lumber-carrier at midnight and rowed to Deer Island.

The Ayer anchored during a dense fog late yesterday and when the weather cleared Captain Coleman had the jibs hoisted and attempted to run for port. The headsails took the wind on the wrong side, however, and the anchor was again let go but it failed to hold, the vessel striking Little Faun bar at about flood tide. Today there was no water about the schooner and men walked around her. She is considerably strained and it will be difficult to float her.

The Nat Ayer was built at City Island, N. Y., in 1865 and was launched under the name of the M. W. Grifing. She was afterwards rebuilt and sold to Bangor men.

VALUES COLLAPSE

I have no sentimental regard for the cost price, for the market value, for the inherent worth of things, when I decide to make a market for those things

I'd be kidding only myself if I told you that this Key West weather in October was not hurting my winter clothing business trade. I'd be kidding only myself if I carried over till next year the goods I ought to sell this winter.

I can't bring home my immense stock of WINTER OVERCOATINGS AND SUITINGS and frame them. I must sell them. You must buy them. I say you must buy them because I'm going to sell them FRIDAY AND SATURDAY at prices that will make you buy them.

This Don't Need Big Type

Look at the clothing ads. in this paper. Look at the prices—the $20, the $25, the $30, what do you suppose they mean? These prices mean the honest attempt of merchants to sell you as low as they can. The best they can do is what they are doing; I admit it. Those prices mean you are paying a lot more than you used to pay for clothing as well as for everything else. Why do you do it? You don't have to do it. I'll prove it to you FRIDAY and SATURDAY by cutting these prices in halves.

DR. G. F. MARTIN

Talk on Inspection of Dairies

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, chairman of the local board of health, was one of the principal speakers at the hearing held in Centralville Odd Fellows hall yesterday by the special commission appointed to frame a new bill relative to the inspection of dairies. A Mr. Emerson of Haverhill also spoke on the question of inspection. The greater portion of the hearing was reported in yesterday's edition of The Sun.

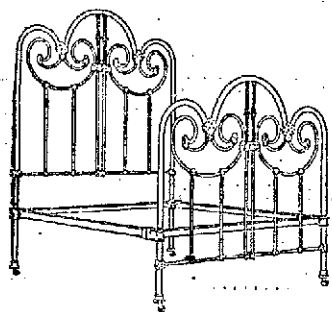

taken and the names of producers from whom it was taken, as he did not consider it fair. Milkmen, he said, live today under constant fear of the law, but farmers cannot live, he said, up to all the requirements and earn an honest living. Mr. Emerson further said that if the law was vigorously enforced there would not be falls enough in the state to hold the convicted persons. He believed there should be opportunity given to discuss the chemical qualities of milk. The report of the state inspector of dairies, he said, was not satisfactory. The state board of agriculture, he said, has taken the method of advertising farmers in their report who come up to what they term their standard on milk supply. He contended that he lived up to all the requirements of the board, but he did not want their advertising. Mr. Emerson said he was one of the first men in the state to advocate cleanliness in handling milk. The state board of health, he said, commends the water supply of Haverhill. That water was used for his cows, but the state inspector in his marking of his premises did not consider the water supply up to the demands of the state board of agriculture. Mr. Emerson created laughter when he said there were milk inspectors who could not milk a cow, but those men have suggested to farmers of experience the best kind of a pail to use when milking cows. Mr. Emerson closed by saying there were just as honest men in the milk business as could be found in this state. They are ready to assist in obtaining a better milk supply, but they will not submit to be driven or nagged by inexperienced men. Dr. G. Forrest Martin, chairman of the Lowell board of health, was sharp in his comments and on what was being demanded for the interest of Lowell residents. He said in part: "We recognize we are attempting to solve a hard problem in attempting to secure a good milk supply for Lowell, but our principal demand has been a clean supply. One man has said at this hearing he was in favor of cutting out all inspection by boards of health, but to intelligent men that means there is need of inspection of milk, barns and dairies. I object to any plan by which producers will be allowed to sell cheap milk. I am aware from what I hear in my office there is a demand for it. Realizing its danger to public health I will not favor it. There is not a farm within 10 miles of Lowell on either side that can furnish certified milk. "Men who want certified milk will have to pay the price. It is supplied to a few hospitals and a limited number of rich persons. It is not an issue in this question as no one is asking farmers to produce it generally. A score card system on the inspection of milk must be handled in a reasonable manner. Men of ordinary intelligence without great expense, can meet the demands of the Lowell board of health. It is a question beyond dispute that impure milk is a great spreader of disease and on that account producers should exercise great care. I realize it is a hardship on a farmer to be prosecuted for selling milk not up to the standard, which comes from a healthy cow. In our board we only ask cleanliness on the part of producers. The subject was discussed at length by DeLacey Corkum and George P. Greenwood of Billerica, A. E. Dutton of Chelmsford, and Ex-Alderman E. A. Howe of Lowell.

"Our Knack"

A short time ago a gentleman remarked about what a "knack" we had of filling our stores with customers and asked how we did it. We honestly could not tell him. All we know is that we tell our customers just the exact truth about all our business doings, and treat them as nicely as we know how, so that they come again and tell all their friends to go to Hall & Lyon Company. Anyway, our "knack" must be a good one, for our business keeps on growing all the time. If you are not acquainted with "our knack" of doing business, investigate.

FOSS DEFIES LODGE

To Prove That He Ever Spent Cash Corruptly

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Eugene N. Foss, democratic candidate for governor, is after Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. In a statement issued last night Mr. Foss took the senator to task for his statements before the Postmasters' association of New England at the annual meeting in this city Wednesday evening, when the senior senator from Massachusetts declared the use of force, fraud and money in elections.

It is a far cry from the Butler-Robinson campaign of 27 years ago, when Mr. Lodge conducted the republican fight as chairman of the republican state committee, with George D. Robinson of Chicago as the candidate, but Mr. Foss declares that money was lavishly used at that time by the republicans to beat Butler and that they have used it in every campaign since.

He reminds the senator that the public has not forgotten the Shaw-Gardner campaign for congress a few years ago, when he alleges the senator's son-in-law, Congressman Augustus Peabody Gardner, "practically covered the district with a blanket of bank notes and expenditures ran up into the scores on scores of thousands of dollars."

Mr. Foss also took a shot at Congressman Greene for the latter's reported remarks before the postmasters on the same occasion, when the latter, he charges, practically told the officeholders to get out and hustle for the republican party this fall.

Mr. Foss' Statement

Mr. Foss' statement follows:

"I was very much interested this morning in reading Senator Lodge's speech before the Postmasters' association of New England. Senator Lodge declared the use of money in political campaigns and seemed to feel that such use of money was dangerous and corrupting. In order that I may not be accused of misrepresenting Senator Lodge I will quote from the reports in the morning papers extracts from his speech. The senator said:

"More important than the tariff and the cost of living to the welfare of the state and the country is the assurance that the vote of the people will be the fair and full expression of their beliefs, and that the methods by which candidates are elected will be those which commend themselves to the best judgment of the people.

"Force or fraud in the conduct of elections are the forerunners of revolution and are utterly hostile to the principles of American government. There is hardly anything more dangerous to the republic than to have either the election or the nomination of public officers controlled by force or fraud or by what is more insidious and sinister in its influence, the large expenditure of money. We want men to govern, the United States and not money.

"I know that a campaign cannot be conducted without campaign funds, but that is different from pouring in huge masses of money to gratify a selfish ambition. It will be a sorry day for the country if it ever comes to pass that the result of an election is determined by votes bought or sold."

Time for Senator to Reform

"I am very glad to see that Senator Lodge has experienced a change of heart. It is time. There are those who have not yet forgotten Senator Lodge's early campaigns for congress when his district was flooded with money, how this scholar in politics studied his check book more than works on political economy, and depended upon it to do its work.

Revolt at Hanna Campaign

"The republican party in state and nation for years, more years than many of the voters can now remember, has always gathered big funds together for use in campaigns and millions of dollars have been contributed by corporations and through private sources by beneficiaries of the high tariff legislation that Senator Lodge is responsible for not merely to corrupt the electorate, but to send men to Washington in both branches of congress who would do the bidding of the men who paid the bills.

"So notorious was this when the late Senator Hanna conducted his famous 'business man's' campaign that the public began to demand a change. The democratic party insisted that this sort of corruption cease. Public sentiment grew so strong that corporations were forbidden, by law to make contributions.

"The republican party in this state, of which Senator Lodge is the head, has again flooded the state with money.

"Senator Lodge and his son-in-law are known to have used money with a lavish hand that the democratic party has been unable to find a man who would dare to run against Congressman Gardner, because it was known of all men that money would be spent like water by the Lodge-Gardner combine, and has had its draft men from outside the district in order to secure a candidate.

What Did Greene Mean?

"Senator Lodge says: 'There is hardly anything more dangerous to the republic than to have either the election or the nomination of public officers controlled by force or fraud, or by what is more insidious and sinister in its influence, the large expenditure of money.'

"Let us look at that statement and consider before whom it was made and what the previous speaker, Congressman Greene, had said, so immediately just before that the echoes of his voice had hardly died away.

"It was before a gathering of the postmasters of New England, federal officeholders, a gathering listed as a 'republican rally' under the long list of rallies announced for this week by the republican machine of which Senator Lodge is the head.

"These postmasters are supposed to be public servants, are paid out of the public funds collected from all the people; they are supposed to be attending to their public duties.

"Congressman Greene declared to the assembled postmasters of New England: 'If you have the idea that the principle of the civil service will keep you in office you want to disabuse your minds of that idea. You are a strong political force. You get your positions fastest of you, through the republican party, and you will hold them in very much the same way. Don't deceive yourselves about this.'

"What did he mean?

Would Taft Remove Them?

"Has any man who reads that declaration any doubt about his meaning?

"He served notice then and there in the presence of Senator Lodge to those postmasters that if they didn't get out and work for the republican party they would lose their jobs and 'the civil service' wouldn't save them. And this in a state campaign in which Senator Lodge says national issues have no part.

"He notified those postmasters that they must get out and hustle as postmasters for the republican party or they would lose their jobs, and this way through his term of office.

"If you have the idea that the principle of the civil service will keep you in office you want to disabuse your minds of that idea."

"Is this an intimation that President Taft will punish those postmasters who do not respond to this lash of the whip by removal? If not what is it? 'Isn't this using force' in a most cowardly and contemptible way? Isn't this holding up the promise of punishment if these public servants do not get out and work, holding up before them a threat not even veiled by any disguise whatsoever.

"And when the postmasters get out and work are not their carriers and office force expected to do the same thing?

Did Senator Lodge Protest?

"Did Senator Lodge protest against this threat of Congressman Greene? Did this man who fears the use of 'force or fraud' see any menace to honest elections by these orders to federal officeholders under public pay to neglect their work and on time the government pays for dig down into their pockets, use their letter carriers as they have repeatedly used them even within the year, as they were used in the 14th district against me only last spring; did Senator Lodge see no danger to the republic in work of that kind? Did he see no danger of the formation of an officeholders' organization under orders to get out and hustle for the party that gave them their jobs as a reward for previous political service and which insists upon their keeping up their political activity while holding government positions of trust or responsibility?

"Do these men imagine that the great mass of the voters do not see through them?

What Happened in Hanson

"In the recent contest for nomination to the legislature a man was running as a candidate on the republican ticket in the little town of Hanson. He had declared himself opposed to the continuance of the rule of Boss Lodge.

"Federal officeholders were sent into that district. On the day of the caucus taxicabs and automobiles from Boston were sent to that town and the laund, the halt and the blind were dragged to the polls and all the power of the state committee, all the power that money could bring into that contest, was exerted and the Lodge candidate won by a few votes.

"It was a lavish use of money in the interests of Senator Lodge, to defeat the will of the republicans of the town of Hanson, and it succeeded. A poor man had no show. It takes money to hire automobiles and taxicabs, and from Boston to Hanson, have them work all day and return to Boston, and a poor man can't afford to do it.

"Will Senator Lodge deny that this was done in his interest? I await his reply with interest.

Public Not to Be Fooled

"O, the public isn't going to be fooled by this assumption of virtues on the part of men who have been playing 'practical politics' with all that this implies for years! All the virtues do not lie under the hat that covers the head of Senator Lodge, nor are all the virtues to be found in democratic quarters.

"Certain expenditures in politics owing to latter-day conditions are necessary and these expenditures must be met until the government steps in as it should step in and say all the legitimate expenses of elections will be borne by the government, and there must be no other expenses whatever.

"I have spent money in elections and have honestly made returns of such expenditures to the officials with whom such expenses are required to be filed. These records can be seen and I defy Senator Lodge to find one single item of expense that was for money improperly spent or corruptly spent.

"I have used considerable money on campaigns, because the great majority of the press of Massachusetts is republican and ignore to a large extent any campaign utterances that might injure republican prospects, and I have been forced into the advertising columns in order to show the people how they are being robbed by the Payne-Atchafalpa and to arouse them to an opportunity to strike at those responsible for the high cost of living and the unjust burden placed upon them and their families by the class of men who, posing as political purists, order federal officeholders gathered together for a purpose to drop their public duties and get out and hustle for the republican party or lose their jobs."

"Aren't tonight, Associate, Kittredge's Arch.

MEETING OF D. A. R.

Old Bay State Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Wednesday night at the home of Miss Horace T. Baker at 82 Riverside street. At the conclusion of the business meeting Miss Elizabeth Dume read an article on the surrender of Cornwallis. A guessing game followed, in which Miss Merchant and Miss Hosmer won the prizes. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Helen Lombardi and Miss Cora B. Parker.

PROF. WOODRUFF HEAVY BATTING

Calls Colonel Roosevelt an "Un-mitigated" Bad Name

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Twice in the speech last night Professor E. H. Woodruff of Cornell University called Theodore Roosevelt a liar, once an "un-mitigated liar." His attack, made at a political rally over which he presided, threw the house into an uproar. There were cat-calls, hisses, cheers and clapping with a steady shout behind them all of "Parker Parker," for the next speaker, ex-Judge Alton B. Parker. Judge Parker sprang to his feet and begged the audience to allow Prof. Woodruff to be heard. The noisier part of the house complied and the rest of the evening went more quietly.

Prof. Woodruff charged that when the colonel denied sending Ballany

Won Third Game of Series for the Athletics

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A light rain early yesterday accompanied by a sharp drop in the temperature presaged uncomfortable conditions for the third game of the world's championship series between the Chicago Nationals and the Philadelphia Athletics this afternoon.

As no more rain was in sight, however, it was regarded as certain that the game would be played. The diamond, covered by canvas, did not suffer from the wet but the outfield was slippery.

The weather depressed the spectators. The leaden skies, the mist and chill winds were no incentive to pay three or four prices for tickets.

A thin, shivering line of undaunted enthusiasts was lined up at the grounds when day broke, waiting for the ticket windows to open. Fifteen thousand tickets were available to the crowd. It was regarded as certain that Ed. Ruelbach would pitch for Chicago but Connie Mack said he would not select his man until he had seen the field and seen the players in practice. The general belief was that Mack's choice would lie between Coombs and Plank.

Noon found the grandstand and pavilion seats filled and the bleachers nearly so. Coffee in small buckets was consumed in immense quantities. Reporters who complained of the poor arrangements at Philadelphia found ten tiers of seats with desks contained in front of the main grandstand behind the home plate.

The Chicago players came on the field for batting practice nearly two hours in advance of the game. Owing to the cold, Manager Chance of the Cubs said he might not send in Ruelbach to pitch, as had been his intention; but finally allowed him to begin the game.

The batting order:

Philadelphia	Chicago
Strunk, cf	if, Sheppard
Lord, if	cf, Schulte
Collins, 2b	cf, Hoffman
Baker, 3b	1b, Chance
Davis, 1b	2b, Zimmerman
Murphy, rf	3b, Steinfield
Barry, ss	ss, Tinker
Thomas, c	c, Kling
Coombs, p	p, Ruelbach

First Inning
Philadelphia—Strunk was given his base on balls. He went to second on Lord's sacrifice bunt, who went out. Ruelbach to Chance. Sheppard took Collins' "Texas leaguer." Strunk scored on Baker's single to center. Baker out, stealing. Kling to Tinker. One run.

Chicago—Sheppard walked. Schulte doubled to center field over low crowd. Sheppard going to third. The ground rules allow only two bases on a hit into the overflow crowd. Sheppard scored on Hoffman's sacrifice fly to Strunk. Schulte taking third. Chance struck out Zimmerman's high fly fell into Strunk's hands. One run.

Second Inning
Philadelphia—Davis was passed on four pitched balls. Murphy grounded out, Steinfield to Chance. Davis doubled second on the play. Barry doubled into left field crowd, scoring Davis. Thomas' liner was captured by Schulte, Barry being held at second. Barry scored when Coombs hit for two bases into the rightfield crowd. Chance and Ruelbach conferred. Kling joining. Play resumed. Strunk went out, Zimmerman to Chance. Two runs.

Chicago—Steinfeld popped to Barry. Tinker doubled down right field foot line. Kling went out, Baker to Davis. Tinker taking third. Beaumont hit for Ruelbach. Beaumont walked. Sheppard was issued a free pass, filling the bases. Tinker and Beaumont scored when Schulte hit for two bases to left. Hoffman struck out. Two runs.

Third Inning
Philadelphia—McIntyre went in to pitch for Chicago. Sheppard made a running catch of Lord's long fly. Fine rain began falling, but the game was not interrupted. Steinfield was barely able to check Collins' sharp hit, which was a safe one. Collins scored when Schulte let Baker's single pass him. Baker took third on the error; Davis was hit by a pitched ball and went to first. Murphy knocked a homerun over the fence into the right field bleachers. Baker and Davis scoring ahead of him. Chicago's entire infield gathered to insist that under ground rules Murphy's hit should merely have been a double. The protest availed them nothing. Chance was ordered off the field for continuing his protest. Archer taking his place at first. Pfeister replaced McIntyre on the slab. Barry knocked the first ball pitched into the centerfield crowd for two bases. Barry scored when Thomas hit to Tinker and the latter threw badly to Archer. Thomas was doubled at second on Coombs' hit to Archer. Zimmerman man to Tinker. 2 runs.

Chicago—Archer, Baker to Davis. Lord captured Zimmerman's fly. Steinfield struck out. No runs.

Fourth Inning
Philadelphia—Strunk filed out to Hoffman. Lord made a clean single to right center. Collins forced Lord at second, Pfeister to Zimmerman. Collins out, stealing. Kling to Tinker. No runs.

Chicago—Tinker singled to right. A double play disposed of Tinker and Kling. Barry to Collins to Davis. Pfeister out, Baker to Davis. No runs.

Fifth Inning
Philadelphia—Baker was retired, Zimmerman to Archer. Davis lined safely to left. Murphy sent a long fly to Hoffman. Barry forced Davis at second, Tinker to Zimmerman. No runs.

Chicago—Baker fumbled Sheppard's bunt and the latter was safe. Schulte fanned. Sheppard and Hoffman were doubled, Murphy to Davis. Murphy having taken Hoffman's single, while Sheppard apparently thinking there were two out, kept on running. No runs.

Sixth Inning
Philadelphia—Thomas grounded out Baker to Archer. Coombs hoisted an easy fly to Zimmerman. Strunk missed three good ones. No runs.

Chicago—Archer's hit in front of the plate put him out, Thomas to Davis. Zimmerman struck out. Baker took care of Steinfield's foul fly. No runs.

Seventh Inning
Philadelphia—Zimmerman made a neat one-handed catch of Lord's liner. Steinfield speared Collins' hot grounder and Crew him out at first. Steinfield immediately afterward fumbled Baker's grounder and the latter was safe. Davis smashed a single to right. Baker reaching second. Tinker fanned Murphy's sharp grounder, filling the bases. Davis and Baker scored on Barry's double to left. This was Barry's third double. Thomas walked again, filling the bases. Murphy and Coombs singled over second. Strunk singled too hot for Tinker's stalk and the bases were again filled. Lord hit to Zimmerman, who tossed him out at first. Four runs.

Chicago—Tinker out, Baker to Davis. Kling retired, Barry to Davis. Pfeister struck out. No runs.

Eighth Inning
Philadelphia—Schulte gathered in Collins' fly. Baker retired via the Zimmerman-Archer route. Davis hit for two bags unassisted by ground rules. Davis was thrown out by Tinker. No runs.

Chicago—Sheppard took a free trip to first. Schulte lifted a fly to Murphy. Hoffman hit too hot for Baker, who sloped up the ball and it turned on to a two bagger. Archer fanned. Sheppard scored on a passed ball. The ball hit the railing and under ground rules hit to center. Murphy jumped into the crowd in the right field for a marvelous catch of Zimmerman's heavy wallop. Two runs.

Ninth Inning
Philadelphia—Barry fouled to Kling. Thomas out to Archer. unassisted. Coombs sent a fly to center, Hoffman misjudging the fly and making a pick-up of it. Strunk was retired, Zimmerman to Archer. No runs.

Chicago—Steinfeld fked out to Strunk. Tinker singled to left, Kling struck out. Needham, who batted for Pfeister was a foul to Baker. The score and summary:

RADICAL CHANGES

SUGGESTED BY PRES. LYNCH OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Radical changes in several matters pertaining to baseball were suggested last night by President Lynch of the National league, a member of the national commission, who is here for the world's series of games. Mr. Lynch proposes to dispose of some of the criticisms to which the official scoring in both leagues has been subjected by leaving the appointment of official scorers in each city to the Baseball Writers association instead of having them appointed as now, by the two leagues nominally, but in reality by the club owners.

The official scoring of the world's series, Mr. Lynch suggests, should be done by three scorers, one to be appointed by the National league, one by the American league and the other by the baseball writers themselves, majority opinion to rule.

BOXING GOSSIP

On every side people are wondering if Jimmy Gardner will whip Frank Klaus when they meet at the Army club in Boston next Tuesday. Gardner showed in Philadelphia last Monday that he is in great shape, ready for all comers, and a claimant for the honors left vacant by Stanley Ketchell's death.

There will be no lack of condition on Gardner's part next Tuesday. He is fine as a fiddle, and will put up a grand struggle. Everyone agrees he could have beat Klaus before if he was in shape. Now that he is in condition the match is sure to be spectacular and sensational from start to finish. A large crowd is expected to go down from Lowell and Lawrence to see the bout, which will prove exciting and interesting.

PAPAL NUNCIO

Mgr. Tonti Departed From Portugal Today

LISBON, Oct. 21.—Mgr. Tonti, the papal nuncio at Lisbon, today left Portugal. His destination was not announced. It had been rumored that the pope had decided to recall the nuncio as a protest against the antagonistic attitude of the republic. Antonio Ayuda, minister of the interior, today returned from Coimbra and reported that the trouble at the university there was confined to the tearing up of royal portraits and the wrecking of furniture by the ultra-republican students.

The government is investigating the affairs of the national mint, the director of which, Jose Lima, recently committed suicide.

HE HAS RESIGNED

Baker Out as Head of the New York Police Department

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Police Commissioner Baker resigned yesterday afternoon after three brisk talks with Mayor Gaynor. In Baker's place the mayor puts James C. Crosey, a personal friend and a Brooklyn lawyer little known to the politicians. Fredrick H. Buehler, first deputy commissioner, handed in his resignation an hour or two before Commissioner Baker left.

To succeed him, the mayor named Clement J. Driscoll, commissioner of weights and measures.

Charles W. Kirby, the second deputy, did not observe the formality of penning a resignation, but the mayor, aware of Kirby's attitude, dispensed with the paper and appointed as his successor William J. Flynn, who has been chief of the secret service in this city for eleven years.

The first manifestation of activity by the new officials was the raiding of five alleged gambling houses, from which the grand jury had returned thirty-one indictments—five houses that were not on Acting Mayor Mitchell's list.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookfield, Mo.—"Two years ago I was unable to do any kind of work and only weighed 115 pounds. My trouble dates back to the time that women may expect nature to bring on them the Change of Life. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel much better, and I have continued to use it. I am very grateful to you for the good health I am now enjoying."—Mrs. SARAH LOUISA, 414 S. Livingston St., Brookfield, Mo.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female illness—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, nervous pains, backache and nervous prostration.

No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine, made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Malthoid Roofing

We want builders to see us about roofing. We want to demonstrate why it is to your advantage to roof your building with Malthoid Roofing—and we will do this to your complete satisfaction.

We will show you beyond any question that Malthoid is the very highest type of roofing perfection and made so well that it will last as long as the building it covers.

We will show you that Malthoid is a better roofing than shingles—is more satisfactory than iron—is cheaper than tin—in fact, we can prove that there is no other roofing known to the building trade that is as good—as durable—
as long lasting—
as water proof—
as fire resisting and as cheap as Malthoid Roofing.

It has got every other brand of ready roofing marking time while it is progressing—there is more of it sold on the Pacific Coast than all other brands combined and it speaks well for the intelligence of builders that this is so.

The makers of Malthoid Roofing—The Paraffine Paint Co. of San Francisco and Chicago know their business for they have been at it for twenty-six years and they not only make this roofing to sell but they make it to last and to please the people who buy it.

They would rather have the good will of the builder than his money—and they get both by the way they make Malthoid Roofing.

If you have roof troubles of any kind or of any description—no matter what kind of a roof you have on your building, see us at once and we will help you out of your difficulty.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

In presenting M. Douglas Flattery's new romantic drama, "Annie Laurie" at the Opera House on Oct. 28 and 29, local theatregoers will have the opportunity of seeing Australia's best actress, Miss Lillian Bacon, and one of the best Scotch plays ever offered to the American public. The management has surrounded Miss Bacon with a strong company and the entire production, scenic and costumes, is most elaborate. In the role of "Annie Laurie" Miss Bacon has a part particularly suited to her and one that gives her every opportunity to display the talent that made her famous in the land of the kangaroo. In creating a drama of that famous Scotch lassie, Mr. Flattery has given us a play that is absolutely original, for each character in the piece is unique.

"HE COMES FROM MILWAUKEE" Is it funny? It certainly is. Mr. Bernard has a lot of changes of costume in character and a duel scene with the house in an uproar, but he had to work very hard to keep pace with the other players. The music is all bright and tuneful, and the costumes and color schemes charming. —New York Herald.

"He Comes from Milwaukee" comes to the Opera House soon.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

A delightful, amusing, entertaining bill, full of variety and of just one standard of high excellence, is what is offered at the Merrimack Square theatre this week.

The sketch "In Camp Rest," presented by Carter, Taylor & Co. is the sort of a comedy sketch which will please the most discriminating palate. It is full of bright dialog and humorous situations and is a laugh-maker from start to finish. One should see it if one cares anything about thoroughly enjoying oneself.

Hansone & Company have a wonderfully good presentation of magic, with elaborate tricks and many of the unusual slight-of-hand order. The scenic stock company also presents a delightful little love story in the one act play, "Hearts and Flowers."

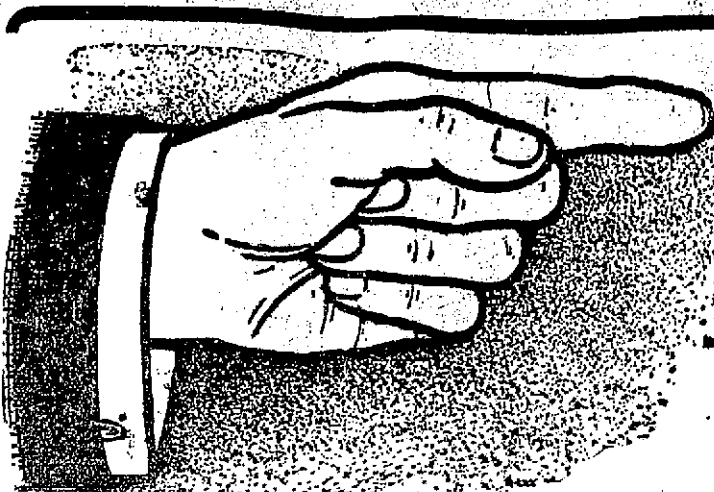

Bobby Jewett, "the American boy," has some bright songs and a race track monolog from Eddie Clark which will interest one, and Fred Rivenhall is an English comedian of high excellence. The best moving pictures are also on the bill.

One of next week's features, by the way, will be the Glendale Quartet, Lowell's own sweet singers. The "boys" have prepared a special act worthy of their home town.

A continuous performance is presented daily from 1 until 10:30 p. m.

Mrs. Olive McKay of Cabals, Maine, is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. E. Harnden, of Merrimack street.

SENATOR ALDRICH

Was Knocked Down and Seriously Injured

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Senator Nelson for several days. He is today unknocked down and seriously injured. News of the accident to the senator alone to the home of his son on Park only leaked out through the routine avenue, where he has been staying information of the Presbyterian hospital that an ambulance from that institution had been summoned. The ambulance surgeon was informed on his arrival that the senator was being cared for by his son's family physician and would not require any other attention.

The accident occurred at a crowded corner of Madison avenue. The senator made his way back to the apartment house where his son lives. He encountered friends at the door and they half carried him to the elevator and thence to his son's apartments. Several relatives were notified of the accident and hurried to the senator's side. Among those who called was John D. Rockefeller, Jr., his son-in-law.

81 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Louis H. Esterbrook, 81 years old, celebrated her birthday anniversary, Wednesday, at the home of her son, E. E. Esterbrook, Cosgrove street. One of the features of the celebration was a huge birthday cake, bearing the dates 1829-1910. A number of friends called to offer Mrs. Esterbrook congratulations on her green old age, and she also received a shower of postals and many flowers and other pretty gifts.

YOUNG CORBETT

Was Pounded Around the Ring

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Young Corbett, once the first of lightweights, proved again last night, when he met Willie Bercher at the Longacre A. C., that he was another of the champions who cannot come back. The bout was stopped by the referee in the fourth round after he had been knocked down twice and was reeling blindly around the ring, a target for uppercuts and hooks to the face. Corbett was fat and his broken nose troubled him so he could hardly breathe through it.

COME

OUR TOMORROW

Discussed by the Y. M. C. A.
Educational Secretary

At the October meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., held last evening at the home of Mrs. Albert F. French, 218 Parkview avenue, W. C. Smith, educational secretary of the Y. M. C. A. state committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island, spoke on the subject, "The Association as a Factor in the Education of Industrial Workers," but it concerned very largely the development of the men of the future, and stated what the association is doing to prepare men for lives of the most usefulness in the coming years. The session opened with a devotional service, conducted by Mrs. A. S. Woodworth, following which there was an organ recital in the music room of Mr. French's home, Mr. French and Miss L. Ella Calderwood being at the instrument. Mr. Smith was introduced and spoke as follows:

"That the Young Men's Christian Association has had a wonderful development in meeting the opportunity to serve young men in this field of service is instanced in its growth of 20 years, which is quickly proven by a few figures. Sixty-three of the associations employ educational secretaries, who supervise the work of 2500 teachers; directing the work of 53,000 students in 150 different subjects at a cost of $661,000, at the present time.

as against no supervision with 500 paid teachers, working with 12,000 students covering 25 courses at an annual expense of $60,000, some 15 odd years ago. There are 14 apprentice and trade schools located in as many different cities. There are upwards of 3000 students doing day work in the associations, as they are not able to get the desired work in other institutions. There are over 10,000 employed boys between 14 and 17 years of age who are securing an education in the association."

Dr. D. E. Yarnell, general secretary, spoke upon educational work in Lowell. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the social committee of the auxiliary, made up of the following named: Mrs. Frank J. Spaulding, chairman; Mrs. Millard F. Davis, Mrs. Stanley Chrysler, Miss Ella M. Penn, Mrs. Fred M. Perkins, Mrs. Stephen W. Hands, Mrs. Arthur W. Garland, Mrs. John Kilpatrick, Mrs. Clarence A. McCoy, Mrs. Frank Putney, Mrs. O. M. Dow and Mrs. William Davis.

PIECE OF MEAT

LEOMINSTER, Oct. 21.—Napoleon Tatro, 30 years old, died as a result of a piece of meat becoming lodged in his windpipe and suffocating him. He was eating a hurried lunch at the P. A. Whitney Carriage company, where he was employed, and nobody seems to have seen him when the meat became lodged in the windpipe.

When discovered by fellow workmen writhing on the floor, a call was sent to Dr. Harry P. Blodgett. He succeeded in removing the meat from the windpipe but it had been too firmly wedged in for Tatro to recover. He was black in the face and apparently dead when Dr. Blodgett reached him. Tatro lived a few minutes after the meat was removed, but his life was at too low an ebb to be restored by artificial respiration. The piece of meat removed from his throat was three inches long and an inch and a half wide. It was jammed into the windpipe so far that it could scarcely be reached with instruments.

MGR. McDONOUGH

Is Made Prothonotary Apostolic

LEWISTON, Me., Oct. 21.—A brilliant and imposing church ceremony took place at St. Patrick's church yesterday, when Mgr. M. C. McDonough, rector of St. Patrick's and vicar general of the Portland diocese, was invested with the office of prothonotary apostolic. This is the first time this honor has been conferred on a priest in Maine. Bishop Walsh presided at the investiture and Mgr. Trudel, the oldest priest in seniority in the diocese, with about 50 other priests from all parts of Maine, attended. A procession of the children, altar boys and visiting priests marched into the church at 1:15.

the children singing a hymn to the pope. The mayor and the city council had seats reserved in the body of the church.

The brief sent from Rome was read in Latin by Rev. Dr. Dow, vicar of St. Patrick's, who afterwards translated the words into English. This paper gave official announcement of the conferring of the honor and stated that it was in acknowledgment of Mgr. McDonough's zeal for religion and his work as a priest.

A small table, on which had been laid the insignia distinctive of this rank, was placed before the bishop's throne and there blessed by Bishop Walsh. The staff of the bishop was held aloft, the holy water was sprinkled upon the new robes and the censor was swung. This concluded the investiture ceremonies.

Mgr. McDonough, after kneeling before the high altar, withdrew to the sacristy, where he took off his purple robes as monsignor and donned the insignia of his office. Mgr. McDonough then ascended the altar steps and began his first solemn pontifical high mass. The officers were: Mgr. McDonough, celebrant, Rev. P. E. Bradley of Lisbon Falls deacon, Rev. Eugene Gauthier of New Auburn subdeacon, Fr. T. H. Houllihan of the Cathedral and Rev. John Driscoll masters of ceremonies.

Bishop Walsh's assistants were Mgr. Trudel of Oldtown and Fr. Lueban of Kennebunk.

GREAT VELOCITY

Was Attained by the Wind

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Eastern New England had the first taste early today of the southern hurricane when the dull, sultry weather of the past three days gave way to a snapping, cool northeaster whose velocity reached 40 miles at exposed points like Nantucket and Block Island.

New Englanders waited several days for the arrival of the strenuous southerner and all yesterday it seemed to be threatening, but the evening brought thick fog and calm weather.

Shortly before midnight the storm's influence reached up to the eastern coast and the wind began to pipe up from the northeast. By daylight it had reached a velocity of 48 miles an hour at Nantucket and 44 miles at Block Island, but as the sun rose the storm centre seemed to work farther off shore for the wind fell at 4 a. m. to 36 miles at Block Island. In this city the maximum was scarcely 20 miles an hour, and at 8 a. m. it had dropped to 16 miles.

The storm at 8 a. m. today seemed to be central somewhere southeast of Nantucket, probably close to the steamer lane, for the little Nantucket lighthouse sent word by wireless to Newport that the seas were running in mountainous billows and that passing inbound steamers were rolling and wallowing in the big surges.

BABY'S ESTATE

IS ESTIMATED TO BE WORTH $500,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Gladys Martin, mother of James E. Martin, 34, applied yesterday to Surrogate Jackson for letters of administration on the estate of her son, who died at Tuxedo Park, July 23, at the age of 4 years. The real estate is valued at $115,000 and the personal property at $35,000. Mrs. Martin applied for an allowance some time ago for her son from the surrogate for an auto and other incidentals, which would foot up to $20,000 a year.

SENATOR ELKINS' ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Friends of Senator Elkins, who is ill at Elkins, W. Va., are not at all reassured by letters reaching here concerning his condition. According to advices the senator is constantly attended by a leading medical authority, who has as advisors three other eminent practitioners. Thus far, the physicians have not asked for their patient's ailment. Two trained nurses are constantly with Senator Elkins, according to the report, and no other persons, not even members of the immediate family, are permitted to enter the sick room.

DR. ROLLER LOST

WORCESTER, Oct. 21.—Dr. R. F. Roller of Seattle, Wash., failed to throw Hjalmar Lundin of Worcester after an hour of wrestling last night. Under the terms of the agreement Dr. Roller had to throw Lundin twice in an hour before he could be returned a winner.

Headaches Cured SUFFERED FOR FIVE YEARS

I wish to say that I have had headaches for five years. I went to three of the best opticians that I thought would help me, but I can honestly say I received no relief until J. W. Grady, the Optician, tested my eyes and fitted me to glasses. I have not had a headache since wearing my glasses, and before wearing them I would be sure to have a headache every morning. THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

During political campaigns the need of a public hall is more keenly felt.

The time has arrived when the heating apparatus in every household must be set in operation.

Two shrewd theatrical managers snapped up the best sites for a public hall. They realize the advantages of a good location.

The prices of commodities have practically doubled since 1896, and there is no prospect of a change.

There are a great many conflicting opinions upon the matter of milk inspection, and a new law is proposed to provide more stringent regulations for the production and care of milk. The present law is sufficient if it be properly observed.

TWO WORTHY CANDIDATES

The democrats of Middlesex county should use all their votes and their influence for the election of Joseph L. Marin of Lowell and Dexter C. Whittemore of Carlisle, the nominees for county commissioners. They are men of integrity and ability and well qualified for the office. They should be elected.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

Judge Richardson in the equity court in Boston has decided that no party, class or organization can be favored at the expense of the city in the award of contracts for labor or material. The decision is one of great importance, although it is merely a repetition of a principle of law as old as the constitution.

MRS. JULIA WARD HOWE

The death of Julia Ward Howe has produced a wave of sympathy and sorrow throughout the entire country, for her name like her labors for the cause of humanity is universally celebrated. She was a woman of vast intellectual power, amiable character, with a humane sympathy that linked her with the weak and oppressed wherever found. The appreciation of her poetry, like that of her philanthropy, is enthusiastic and sincere. Although she lived beyond the age vouchsafed to most women, yet there is the most widespread and profound sorrow for her demise. But she will live on in her poetry, in her works for humanity and in the universal esteem in which she was held in every civilized land, but especially in this, her own country, where her patriotism and nobility of character were best understood.

Posterity will place a higher estimate upon her service to humanity than does the present generation, and her name will live in the annals of this country as one of the greatest women it has given to fame.

FOR A NEW CITY CHARTER

How long are we to hang on to the old city charter under which our municipal growth is retarded?

There are certain prime necessities that every city must have among which are prosperous industries, good and healthful habitations and good municipal government. In this census year we found a great many cities advancing to new undertakings in the line of public improvements and better government. Lowell is lagging behind on one matter alone, and that is charter reform.

Under the old instrument responsibility is centred nowhere and accordingly when things go wrong it is difficult to place the blame where it properly belongs.

What is needed is a new and up-to-date charter. The city of Lynn has adopted the commission form of charter that has been in force for some time in Haverhill. The western cities are fast moving towards this new form of charter, and many of them are already enjoying its advantages.

The unwieldy double chamber city council is too cumbersome for the prompt and effective transaction of business. It is too liable to beget deadlocks which tie up the city's business, and it often happens, too, that the thing done is not satisfactory to either board, being in many cases a compromise of differences.

Even then the acts of the city council may be vetoed by the mayor, and unless passed by a two-thirds vote over the mayor's veto there is more delay, more inaction, more compromises.

We want a city charter under which the city's business can be transacted in a business-like manner, just as the business of a large corporation is transacted. That is impossible under the present charter.

The city of Chelsea last night opened a three days' celebration of her recovery from the great fire of April 12, 1908, which wiped out the greater part of the city. Today the city has practically been rebuilt, and it will soon be as prosperous as ever. Here is an example of what the commission form of government can do for a city, provided the men chosen under it be able, honest and progressive. Where the governing body is small the citizens are more likely to choose their best men.

Lowell would make vastly more rapid strides onward under a new and up-to-date charter. Whether it be of the Iowa stamp or something different depends upon the wishes of the citizens. The cities that have adopted the commission idea as illustrated by the Des Moines or Iowa charter have no difficulty in deciding upon details as they adopt the instrument bodily, merely changing the name of the city.

If it is desired to avoid the trouble of making an original charter, that can be done by adopting a charter ready made, and one that has stood the test in scores of cities. Why not get out of our municipal swaddling clothes, throw aside provincialism and move on to greater and grander things?

SEEN AND HEARD

THE FORBIDDEN LURE

"Leave us and follow—follow!"

Lure of the sun at dawn.
Lure of the wind-paced hollow.
Lure of the stars withdrawn;
Lure of the brave old singing
Grave perished minstrels knew;
Of dreams like sea fog, clinging
To boughs the night sifts through;

"Leave us and follow—follow!"

The sun goes up the day;
Flickering wing of swallow,
Blossoms that blow away—
What would you, huring, huring,
When I must bide at home?
My heart will break her mooring
And die in reef-flung foam!

Oh, I must never listen.
Call not outside my door.
Green leaves, you must not glisten
Like water, any more.
Oh, Beauty, wandering Beauty,
Pass by; speak not. For see,
By hed and board stands Duty,
To snatch my dreams from me!

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mrs. Gwendolyn Story, the eldest daughter of the well known sculptor, Waldo Story, who was spoken of as a probable star on the musical stage, has announced her engagement to Captain Stuart of the British army, who has just been appointed military attaché at the British embassy in Rome. A MYSTERY SOLVED

For years medical men have been seeking a cure for eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease, some said it was the result of indigestion. It remained for one studious chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in many forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist, experimenting with many antiseptic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to hundreds of sufferers. Cadum ranks today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so positive that the itching of eczema is stopped at once. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest soon after Cadum is applied. Cadum is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box. It is for eczema in all its forms, also for pimples, blotches, itch, tetter, scald skin, eruptions, chafings, psoriasis, rash, sores, scurvy, scabs, etc.

has been, since her last visit to the United States, two years ago, when she was the guest of Secretary of the Navy Meyer and his wife, so fond of Americans that she has received with the greatest pleasure the announcement of the military attaché's engagement, and will greet the bride, with open arms. Announcement was made of a conditional gift of $250,000 by John D. Rockefeller to the medical department of Western Reserve university. The gift, which is a personal one, is made conditional on the raising of $750,000 more by the university. H. M. Hanna, well known as a trotting horse owner and enthusiast, has pledged $250,000 of the remainder of the proposed million-dollar fund, according to the same announcement.

The number of visitors to Burns' birthplace for the year ended Sept. 30 was 47,456, as compared with 44,810 for the previous year, and the number of visitors to the monument was 47,087, as compared with 46,166.

Pascal Favale, a well to do Parisian, has bequeathed three dowries of $127.40 each, to be distributed by lot among girls who inscribe their names at the mayors' offices in their respective quarters of Paris before November 15, the only condition being that they must be over 15 and under 25. The number of names entered is already great, as 687 francs represents a good deal more in Paris than $127.40 does in New York. The winners will receive their dowries on the day they are married. Three years is allowed after the drawing for the winners to make up their minds and decide on partners. In the case of a girl failing to get married within that time her portion will be drawn for again.

Through the efforts of an American woman, Mrs. A. Mosher of Boston, a memorial stone now marks the grave of Margaret Fullup, a singer beloved in Brittany who was buried in a pauper's grave. Margaret Fullup was born of poor people and had a wonderful voice and an equally wonderful memory. She was by profession a pelmarine par procuration, which means that she made pilgrimages for sick Bretons who could not undertake journeys themselves. Wherever she was entertained at hospitable dwellings she sang for the inmates and their friends like the minstrels of old, and it is largely through her that many of the ancient ballads of Brittany are still known, for she learned all that she could discover and sang them throughout the country.

She died in poverty, and though every Breton knew Margaret Fullup's name it was the task of an American to see that her grave was honored. Mrs. Mosher, who loves Brittany and is loved in return by the Bretons for her interest in them and their welfare, has spent most of the summer interesting people in this Breton songstress. She subscribed largely herself and through the efforts of friends obtained enough money for a handsome monument to Margaret Fullup, which was erected recently in the little cemetery at Pluzunet, near Lannion. At the unveiling of the monument speeches were made and tributes paid to the singer by many of the poets and prose writers of Brittany.

Mr. Vanderbilt refused to see any one after his arrival. A note sent to him, asking him point-blank if he were going to marry Mrs. McKim, had not elicited a reply. The hotel attaches said that Mr. Vanderbilt maintained rooms all the year round at the Plaza, had his own keys, and they didn't know when he came in or went out.

GRAPHOPHONE ENTERTAINMENT

An interesting graphophone entertainment was held last night at the women's branch of the People's club in the Rupele building. There was a large attendance and inasmuch as it was the first entertainment of the season it is expected that this year's work will be the most successful since the organization of the club.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, light refreshments were served by Miss Wright, Miss Meigs and Miss Nesmith. The affair was under the general direction of Mrs. George F. Richardson.

This Is a Safe Store for the Man Who Wants the Best That Can Be Had In Clothing, and we offer ROGERS-PEET'S clothes as the best that are made. If we knew of better clothes than theirs, we'd have them.

The distinction between "custom-made" and ready-made, has disappeared with the men who wear Rogers-Peet's clothing—and there are hundreds of men in this class—in Lowell today. If you are not familiar with the merits of this BEST READY-TO-WEAR clothing, it will be distinctly to your advantage to look into the matter.

Come in here and try on the suits; see how they fit; how carefully the garments are tailored; how unquestionably correct these are in style, and in such an examination, remember that not one pattern in Rogers-Peet's clothes can be found in any other ready-made clothing.

You will find that it is much easier to get clothing ready-to-put on than to be measured for it—when you get the right kind; that it's much more satisfactory to see how the suit or overcoat "looks" when it's on, than to guess how the cloth will "make-up"—and these advantages are emphasized when you get clothes as good as you wish for, that fit as you want them to fit, and get them WHEN you want them. The money saving, too, is a real consideration with many men.

DR. G. W. TUPPER ASTHMA

Discusses Care of Immigrants at the Y. M. C. A.

G. W. Tupper, Ph. D., was the principal speaker at a conference of employers of labor, clergymen, physicians and others at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening at which the matter of best methods of caring for the laboring men was discussed. President F. A. Bowen of the Y. M. C. A. occupied the chair and in addition to Dr. Tupper there were remarks by W. C. Smith, educational secretary of the state committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island and Dr. Yarnell.

Dr. Tupper's subject was: "The Civic Education of Immigrants" and he spoke as follows:

"During the last few years the subject of immigration has attracted unusual attention. The appointment of the special commission on immigration by President Roosevelt in February, 1907, has brought the question even more prominently into public notice. On every hand one sees a curious diversity of human beings entering our national doors, thronging out most narrow, over populated streets, manning our industries and influencing our body politic. Without doubt the immigrant presents the most complex social problem before the American people today. For he holds the key to our economic welfare, our civic future and largely influences our national ethical standards.

"From the standpoint of numbers, the problem of recent American immigration is stupendous. Familiarity alone dwarfs our conception of its magnitude. Since 1820 over twenty-seven millions have come to our shores. This would populate all New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Sixteen millions (16,000,000) mostly men, have come to us since 1882. Such a migration is the greatest in historic times; 9,771,573 have come during the last decade.

"Early immigration came chiefly from Teutonic stock. First came the people of the British Isles. These were succeeded by Germans, moved largely by the political revolution of 1848. Directly after the civil war the Swedes began to come. Up to 1882 these races represented the bulk of our immigration. Since that time we have seen daily tapping new ethnic springs—southern Italian and Ruthenian, Slovak and Slovene, Greek and Syrian, Japanese and Hindu—in such increasingly large numbers that even the most apathetic patriot is becoming aroused.

"This new type of immigration introduces far-reaching results. About 50 per cent are unable to read and write in any language. The majority represent races of low economic efficiency. Many have just emerged from serfdom. Living standards are far below American ideals. A comparison between the Swedish-German immigrant and the Serbian-Bulgarian type well illustrates this change.

"Until recently the American public has contented itself with a wide spread of optimism concerning the ability of the country to assimilate the diverse interests represented by these various nationalities into one American civic body. We have been told that the lure of the freedom and liberty of our country is in itself sufficient to weld the psychology of these diverse ethnic elements into one mass. And if any additional argument toward a free and easy assimilation was required, we have been told that the compulsory school system was amply providing for the civic education of our latest arrivals. All this, however, must be deemed superficial. Our national environment doubtless does much toward assimilation, but these impersonal forces presuppose and demand patriotic conviction, intelligent plans and systematic effort.

"They crowd the already crowded section of our cities. In their own societies they listen to the discussion of problems which interested them in the old world and hence really breathe the air of the little native village long since left behind. Often contact with the American saloon or those who seek the acquaintance of the immigrants for their own gain represents the only type of American influence which comes to them.

"While the teaching of English is imperative, because ignorance of the English language is often the key to all forms of exploitation, and in relieving squalid living conditions and instruction in the fundamentals of our civic life ought not to be overlooked. Contact with the adult immigrants of some 20 different nationalities in Massachusetts and Rhode Island convinces me that much can be done in this direction."

Following Mr. Tupper, President F. A. Bowen introduced W. C. Smith, educational secretary of the state committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Mr. Smith spoke on "The Association as a Factor in the Educational or Industrial Workers." Dr. Yarnell also spoke.

JUSTICE WHITE

Who May Head the Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The name of Supreme Court Justice White is suggested as a possible nominee for chief justice, to succeed the late Chief Justice Fuller. It is known that the president is considering Justice White for the place, along with the names of others, including Justice Hughes and Senator Root. So far the president has not made up his mind. It is known, however, that he is taking personal pride in his judicial selections and that he is anxious to select men for the supreme court to keep the court free of criticism and strengthen it at all points public confidence in the tribunal.

The Man With the STEIN-BLOCH COAT

Will be a conspicuous figure this Fall. At the football games, on the street, and wherever men congregate, he will stand out prominently—not as a freak, but as a dresser of distinction.

The D. S. O'BRIEN CO. makes its opening demonstration of Winter overgarments this week. If you attend the football games or drive an auto, you need these garments now—if you do neither, you'll be needing them soon, and the choicest styles and models, that can't be duplicated, will go to the man who anticipates.

If you've never worn Stein-Bloch clothes you've got something coming to you. The masterful tailoring of the Stein-Bloch models, and the exclusiveness of the Stein-Bloch fabrics appeal to the most critical dressers.

Stein Bloch have provided overcoat models to meet the needs of every class of wearers, and the fabrics are especially suited to each particular model.

The STANDARD BOX, for dress and street wear, is a full box coat, 45 inches long, with velvet collar. The fabrics include the staple black and blue kersey, black and oxford vicuna, and fancy chevrons in gray and brown shades.

The CONVERTIBLE AUTO, single breasted, with collar to be worn down, or button up close, is 52 inches long, full box, and is shown in fancy mixture fabrics, in gray, tan and brown shades.

The PARK LANE is a distinctive Stein-Bloch production—52 inches long, with a half belt, fitted at the sides, and a very full, sweeping skirt. This model will appeal to the younger fellows, and is shown in a choice variety of rough faced fabrics in gray and brownish shades.

The RAGLAN and GREAT RAGLAN, 48 and 52 inches long respectively, are big, roomy garments, cut with the raglan shoulder, and shown in several exclusive fabrics in gray and brown tones.

The GREAT COAT, double breasted, is the garment intended for autoing, driving and hard weather wear. It's long, very big and full, and is made from heavy, warm, woolen fabrics. Some have shoulder linings of satin and body linings of worsted.

We could say a whole lot more, but what's the use—a try-on is what these garments deserve—and expect.

THROWN TO FLOOR

DR. HAIGIS SHOCKED WHILE TRYING TO TURN ON LIGHT

FOXBORO, Oct. 21.—Dr. P. J. Haigis received a serious shock of electricity last night from the button of a drop light.

He was rendered unconscious, but later regained his senses, and it was thought that he would not suffer any permanent injuries.

Dr. Haigis went to his barn and attempted to turn on a light. A high voltage of electricity passed through him and he was thrown violently to the floor. He had a grip on the lamp and evidently could not release it, for the lamp cord was torn from its socket.

As the doctor fell he uttered a cry which was heard by Mr. Kane in the latter's place of business nearby. Mr. Kane summoned Dr. Crocker and after about 15 minutes Dr. Haigis began to recover and directed the treatment of himself. Late last evening he was suffering only from exhaustion. Just how the accident happened is not stated.

The Central street business circuit was in darkness the remainder of the evening.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended meeting of Court City of Lowell, Foresters of America, was held Wednesday night in Foresters hall. Lecturer George McKenna announced that the 24th anniversary of the court would be observed on Nov. 12. The anniversary will take the form of a smoke talk and entertainment, at which all the deputy grand chief rangers in Lowell will be present, also the grand secretary. It was also announced by the lecturer that another entertainment would take place the second evening in January. The auditing committee's report showed a healthy condition of the court.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—More interest has been taken in the world's baseball series between the Philadelphia and Chicago teams than in any previous contests for the premier honors of the country. To prove this experts point to the large attendance at all the games and the great interest in other cities. Before the series started local experts figured that Chance's veteran baseball machine would prove too much for Connie Mack's youthful diamond warriors. The experts confidently predicted the Athletics would lose their nerve when it came to a pinch; that they would be as putty in the hands of the more experienced veterans of the Cubs. The contrary is true. The Athletics have been steadier than the Cubs in all the games played. Their young stars have shown the coolness of a champion prize fighter as he goes into the ring and lets nothing give him a scare. In fact, the dash and the spirit of the club have far exceeded the fondest expectations of the American league sympathizers. While the club, individually and collectively, has displayed great power, both defensively and offensively, the work of none stands out more prominently than that of Catcher Ira Thomas. Great things were expected of Collins, Baker and the Athletic pitchers, and all these have lived up to expectations, but it was supposed that the catching department of the Athletics was the one weak spot of the American league champions. The great work of Thomas so far in the series makes this supposed weakness appear one of the club's chief assets. Upper picture shows the men on the diamond in the second game of the series, played in Philadelphia. Coombs is in the box and Tinker at the bat. Lower illustration shows Eddie Collins of the Athletics rounding third base, bound for home.

SEEK DETAILS ABOUT $500,000 "JACK POT" BRIBERY POOL

JAMES R. KEENE

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—By far the most sensational bribery charge ever made in New York has been laid before the legislative committee appointed ed to report on the alleged corrupt practices at Albany. Assistant District Attorney Robert H. Elder of Kings county told the committee what, he said, ex-Senator Frank J. Gardner had told him last March about the $500,000 "jack pot" raised to defeat the Hughes race track bill in 1908. James R. Keene, owner of the famous "Collin and Synobly" Harry Payne Whitney, whose office Arthur Cayne, now in the front; David Mitchell, formerly manager of the Western Union racing bureau; Charles H. Hyde, Mayor Gaynor's law partner, now his city chamberlain; Schuyler S. Parsons, famous in turf chronicles; Eugene Wood, retired colonel of the Black Horse cavalry at Albany, were a few of the men who, according to Elder's rendering of Gardner, met in Belmont's office one night during the 1908 legislative session and made up a fund that started at $125,000 and grew to be $500,000, said Gardner, according to Elder.

BOWLING GAMES

Interesting Games on the Alleys

The different bowling alleys were well patronized last night and many contests were held. In the Manufacturers league there were two good games. The Lawrence and Appleton teams were the opponents in one game and the former aggregation took two of the three points while in the game between the L. M. S. and Hamilton teams the latter team took all three points.

There was a game between the Million Dollar Kids, so-called, and Big Five which resulted in a victory for the moved quintet.

SILVER WEDDING

Of Mrs. and Mrs. F. W. Cambridge

A delightful silver wedding reception was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cambridge, 309 Westford street, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their marriage. An informal reception was held from 8 to 9.30, attended by about 75 friends of the estimable couple. Mr. and Mrs. Cambridge were assisted in receiving by their two daughters, Misses Mildred and Susie Cambridge. During the evening a program of music was given by Mr. Arthur E. Baker and Miss Lillian King. The ushers were Mr. Luther Hall and Mr. Paul Scribner. The dining room was looked after by Miss Lillian Green, and she was assisted by Miss Carrie Snyder and Miss Maude Hadley. Mr. and Mrs. Cambridge were married in Lowell a quarter of a century ago, and have made this city their home ever since. Rev. R. A. Greene, D. D., who married the couple, was present at the reception, accompanied by Mrs. Greene. Among others who were present were Mr. and Mrs. George Blaisdell of Norwich, Vt., parents of Mrs. Cambridge, and Miss Lillian Blaisdell, also of Norwich, Vt. Mr. and Mrs. Cambridge were the recipients of numerous gifts of cut glass, silverware and flowers. The dining room was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves and on the tables where refreshments were served were bouquets of cut flowers.

EXTRA PRISONER ON STAND

CHIEF HAMILTON Of Lawrence Convicted of Having Bought Alderman's Vote

SALEM, Oct. 21.—James A. Hamilton, chief of the Lawrence fire department, was found guilty on one count of an indictment charging bribery in the superior court here today. The count on which the verdict of "guilty" was returned alleged that Hamilton paid Alderman Xavier Legendre of Lawrence $100 in return for Legendre's vote for Hamilton's appointment as fire chief. The other counts, on which verdicts of "not guilty" were returned, charged payment of bribes to other members of the Lawrence board of aldermen.

Judge Schofield this afternoon sentenced Hamilton to state prison for not less than two and a half years nor more than four years.

STORMED THE JAIL

Mob Rescued Man Who Was Convicted of Murder

LIVINGSTONE, Va., Oct. 21.—Mountain friends of John Moore, under sentence to be electrocuted for the murder of Frank Howl, descended on the Nelson county jail here at 1 o'clock this morning, stormed the building and rescued Moore. It is reported he will be taken to the mountains and liberated.

At the early hour of the morning, when the people of the county were asleep, a crowd of seventy-five fully armed men from the mountain section of the county, where the crime was committed, proceeded quietly through the town to the county jail. Admission was gained and the guards were awed into comparative non-resistance.

The cell where Moore was locked up soon was found and he was taken out and back to the mountains. It was not until some hours later that the news spread and soon several deputy sheriffs were on their way into the mountains to try to re-arrest the murderer. It is feared that bloodshed will result from any attempt of the authorities to recapture the murderer.

Moore was condemned to pay the death penalty by electrocution at Richmond on November 25. He had been convicted of having murdered Frank Howl in Nelson county last May. Many of the mountaineer friends of the condemned man believed him innocent of the crime.

MILK DEALERS COMPLAIN THAT A TRUST EXISTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The department of justice has instituted an investigation of the charges that a milk pasteurization trust exists with ramifications broadcast.

The action is the result of the allegations at the hearing here when A. R. Trumble, representing Washington milk dealers, declared that back of the efforts to require milk dealers here and in other places to pasteurize the products they sell was a trust composed of men of large capital in New York and elsewhere.

AT KIRK ST. CHURCH
Next Sunday evening the service at Kirk street church will be of unusual interest. President Fenenga of Northland college is to give a stereoscopic lecture on life in the great northwest territory. The scenes will be in the heart of the great northern pine stump slashings, where millions of dollars have been reaped by the departed lumber kings into the territory are flocking the sturdy settlers from Scandinavia and Germany and other countries and may rightly be called the modern pilgrims. The lecture will be bristling with interest. The musical program preceding the lecture will be especially fine.

POSTMASTER THOMPSON BETTER
Postmaster Albert C. Thompson, who was taken ill suddenly last Sunday, shows signs of improvement and his physician feels that the danger point has been passed. His condition today is much better than it was yesterday.

THE TAX PAYMENTS
Up to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the city treasurer had collected the sum of $1,052,118.05 for taxes for 1910. Yesterday was the last day to pay taxes in order to escape the interest.

FOOTBALL NOTES
The Indians and the General Electric Prep. School of Lynn will play on the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon. A good game is expected.

DR. CRIPPEN MATCHES WITS WITH CLEVER GOVERNMENT LAWYER

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Dr. Hawley Crippen matched wits today with Richard Muir, one of the cleverest criminal lawyers in England.

The fact that the defendant was to undergo a cross-examination by this representative of the crown increased interest in the proceedings and when Lord Chief Justice Alverstone entered the New Bailey courtroom and the prisoner at the same time took his place in the dock the spectators were already in their seats.

Before Crippen re-entered the witness box from which he gave his direct testimony the lord chief justice announced that at his own request the jury would be allowed later in the day to examine microscopically the skin from the part found in the Hilldrop Crescent cellar, which bears it is alleged by the prosecution, a scar such as Belle Elmore received from a surgeon's knife twelve years ago. The defense claims that there is no scar, but that what appears to be such was caused by a fold in the skin.

Although the steamer Montrose is at sea, the quartermaster who Crippen testified entered into a conspiracy to hide him during the flight to Canada, is now in London and Mr. Muir had a long talk with him last night.

When Crippen was escorted to the witness box Mr. Muir promptly asked him whether he had seen or heard anything of his wife since early on the morning of February 1. The witness replied in the negative and in answer to further questions that were rapidly fired at him said that he could not prove any fact showing that she left the house alive. He supposed she had gone to Bruce Miller, her professional acquaintance, who lives in Chicago. That was the only guess he could make. He made no inquiries. The witness said that he last saw his wife between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning of February 1, when they retired as usual. That morning he prepared his own breakfast. Returning home in the evening he found that Mrs. Crippen had disappeared, as she had threatened to do. He made no inquiries regarding the passengers listed on vessels sailing for America nor since suggested that inquiries regarding the whereabouts of his wife should be made.

Mr. Muir suggested that if the witness's wife were alive she would call upon her sisters in the United States. Crippen's reply to this was that if his wife had gone with another man he would not have the "face" to go to her sisters. This opinion from the witness box drew forth a chorus of "O's" from the spectators.

The doctor could not say whether his wife took any of her furs with her or if she had any quantity of furs and dresses.

Belle Elmore's Jewelry
Regarding the disposition of Belle Elmore's jewelry the witness said that he considered that he was quite entitled to tell Inspector Dew that he had not pawned his wife's valuables, as these had been purchased with his money and he considered them his. He had used the proceeds of the sales to pay for advertising. He did not know what cash his wife had at the time she left him.

"I asked her," said the witness, "if she wanted any money. She replied, 'No, I want nothing.'"

Regarding the letters and statements to Belle Elmore's friends which the husband had made regarding her death Crippen admitted that all were lies and smilingly assented to the suggestion that he had to play the role of a bereaved husband. He thought that he played the part pretty well.

The witness suggested that it was possible that the human parts found in the cellar of his home had been placed there during a periodical absence of himself and wife.

To Establish New Home

The cross examination developed that Miss Leneve, the doctor's typist, who is now charged as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mrs. Crippen had slept in the house on the night of Feb. 2, within 24 hours after his wife had disappeared. Witness said that he resolved to go away on July 9 after realizing that suspicion had been directed against him. He feared that he might be jailed until she was found. He wished also to spare Miss Leneve, whom he persuaded to disguise herself and quit London, by explaining that the statement he had made to Inspector Dew involved her, as well as himself. He told the girl that there would be a scandal and that if his wife were not located there would be trouble. The only way of escape was for both to start a new home together abroad.

Crippen was under cross examination for practically four hours. Throughout that time he was the impersonation of coolness. He responded to the rapidly put and searching questions promptly, sometimes smilingly and always in a calm tone of voice such as would be natural to a man ready to explain a series of events concerning which he has nothing to hide.

When the defendant was excused from the box Dr. Turnbull, director of the pathological institute of the Gordon hospital, was called as the next witness for the defense. He bluntly declared that the so-called scar on the body of the victim could not possibly be a scar.

Dr. Turnbull said that a microscopic examination convinced that the mark had been caused by a folding of the skin under pressure. When the witness stated that it was not characteristic of a scar to be wider at the bottom than at the top the lord chief justice interposed with the remark that the witness differed with Prof. Pepper, who had performed hundreds of operations, and asked Dr. Turnbull whether he had ever operated. The witness replied that he had not.

Dr. Reginald Hall, assistant physician at London hospital and Brompton hospital, was called next by the defense. He testified that as a result of three examinations he had concluded that the disputed mark was not a scar. He had found a sebaceous gland within the area of the so-called scar. The importance of this evidence rests on the admission by the medical experts for the prosecution that the co-existence of a scar and a sebaceous gland was impossible. This closed the evidence for the defense.

Mamie Boutacabbage, the four-year-old child who received severe burns about the body Wednesday forenoon, died this morning at the Lowell hospital.

DUPRE IS BLAMED

For the Death of Hollinghead

SALEM, Oct. 21.—The alleged carelessness of Edward Dupre of New York was responsible for the death of Samuel Hollinghead, a North Beverly street car conductor in Beverly last month, according to the finding of Judge Sears of the district court today after an inquest. Dupre is under bonds of $1000, awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter.

Hollinghead, while collecting fares on the running board of an electric car was knocked off by a passing automobile and killed. Later Dupre was arrested at Portsmouth, N. H. Dupre was the chauffeur of General Frederick R. Halsey of New York, who was riding through Beverly on the afternoon of the accident on an automobile trip from New York to Bretton Woods.

THE PLAINTIFFS WON In Case of Paradis and Powers vs. Long

The verdict in the case of Powers and Paradis vs. Long returned a verdict shortly before four o'clock this afternoon finding damages for the plaintiffs in the sum of $125 for each. The jury retired at 10.55 this morning and had the case under consideration during all the time excepting about one hour, which was spent at luncheon. The verdict was announced in court just before adjournment this afternoon.

Judge's Charge

The cases of Paradis and Powers vs. Long went to the jury this morning. Judge Fox delivering his charge to the jury shortly after the opening of court.

Judge Fox, in opening, explained the plaintiffs' declarations and then spoke in part as follows:

The question is whether these articles were defamatory while in some of them the question is whether these two plaintiffs were referred to. In the articles in which the names of the plaintiffs appear, the defendant claims that the articles are true and if true and written without malice, they are not libellous. The defendant also claims privilege, but the doctrine of privilege does not come into the case. The fact that these men appeared as witnesses at the police board hearing gives the newspaper no special privilege to criticize them. The counsel in the case have absolute freedom in discussing the case. But it is not the province of a newspaper to try cases. Instead of a court and jury, if a newspaper said that a witness was lying it might not only be sued for libel, but it might be brought in for contempt of court. So much for the doctrine of privilege. There is no privilege in this case.

If the articles do not defame these plaintiffs there is no libel, for the newspaper may refer to the witnesses in a case as long as it does not defame them. Defamatory means submitting one to ridicule, hatred or contempt. Disparaging words against one in his title or calling are actionable and thus if a newspaper says that a reporter, misrepresents or deliberately mangles a just into a serious matter, that is actionable.

Some of these articles are certainly defamatory to the plaintiffs if they refer to the plaintiffs. In the two articles in which their names are mentioned you will find that they are defamatory. But the defense sets up the claim that they are true. The defendant has offered two witnesses, the mayor and his secretary, relative to the charge of magnifying a jest. Regarding the general charge of misrepresentation, the mayor there was evidence that the mayor charged them with it and they replied that they were under orders from their papers. Aside from this, articles in the paper will be set before you and you are to determine whether there is any misrepresentation of the mayor or his assistant. I am not aware that any article has been produced to show that the mayor was misrepresented, so I leave that matter to you. I only recall the articles that were offered.

In regard to the testimony of Mr. MacBryne that certain prepared articles were given the papers and were not printed, if a newspaper refuses to print these articles it is not misrepresenting the mayor.

There are other articles that do not refer in terms to Paradis and Powers and the question is whether they refer to them. The law does not require that to show a libel it is necessary to give the men's names. The question is "Do the articles point to these men?" All of these articles appeared in the same issue of the paper and two of them called these plaintiffs by name.

Judge Fox then took up the different articles and read extracts from them.

Continuing he said: "Exhibit B, after enumerating police officers and licensed rumssellers and referring to the other witnesses as the bum element, bunco steers, etc., then it says that if the plaintiffs are not police officers nor licensed rumssellers you are to determine if the article meant to carry the impression that Paradis and Powers belong to that element of unworthy citizens."

In Exhibit E, to the effect that Mayor Brown could buy some daily paper reporters for a bottle of beer, the article may be considered with the other articles and you are to determine if the defendant meant these men. If so the article is defamatory.

On the question of malice you are to consider the articles themselves and the articles that followed. Even if the articles are true they would be libellous if actual malice were shown.

In conclusion Judge Fox spoke on the question of damages, and his Honor on request for certain rulings ruled one of the articles to be defamatory to the plaintiffs, but in the article relating to buying some reporters for a bottle of beer he left the matter with the jury. The fact that the defendant did not know who wrote the articles does not excuse him if the articles are libellous. The jury was instructed to bring in a general verdict either way rather than in each individual count. The jury retired at 11 o'clock.

Malicious Prosecution Case

The Middlesex county juries will surely be enlightened on the laws of libel and slander by the close of the present session for an unusually large number of such cases is on the list.

The second libel suit of the session was finished this morning and was immediately followed by the case of Thomas Carpenter of Medford vs. the Boston & Maine railroad for alleged malicious prosecution, libel and slander. H. P. Brown appeared for the plaintiff and Messrs. Trull and Wier for the defendant.

The plaintiff alleges that he was arrested on complaint of the Boston & Maine railroad on a charge of larceny of 30 bushels of potatoes from the freight house. He was kept in jail from June 26 to July 2, when he was tried in the Charlestown police court and found not guilty and discharged. The plaintiff claimed that the potatoes were taken by a man named Thomas at a time when he was at his home and not at the freight yard and that the Boston & Maine, through its agents had him wrongfully arrested without properly investigating the matter.

The plaintiff was the first witness and stated that he resided in Medford in the winter and Charlestown in the summer. He is a teamster by occupation, and hauls fruit and vegetables, principally, On May 9, 1908, he was taking with his father and was at home that day. Two weeks later he heard that he was connected with the disappearance of certain potatoes. He went at once to the freight office and saw the clerk. The latter said that he thought witness was the man who took the potatoes and he told the foreman in witness' presence. The clerk told him that two men came with a team and took the potatoes away a week after he was held for larceny.

Witness said that the judge in the Charlestown police court in deciding the case said that it was not prepared and should not have been brought into court. The judge said he would write the railroad officials about it. On the day the potatoes were taken witness remained at home cleaning the yard while his mother was away. His mother has since died and hence witness was permitted to state what his mother had testified to in the police court. Witness said he was laid off on account of his arrest and found it hard to get a job. In prison he was kept in a cell with another man. After his acquittal he heard the clerk tell another man that he had to accuse some one of taking the potatoes, to hold his job, and that all are liable to make mistakes.

COAL OPERATORS MEET

HAIFA, N. S., Oct. 21.—That free coal, under the reciprocity plans which are now being formulated by officials of the Canadian and United States governments would be disastrous to the coal interests of this province, was the claim made by the Nova Scotia coal operators at a meeting with representatives of the Dominion Coal and Iron Co. with colleagues at Sydney and Glace Bay, C. B.

THE KINGDOM

BEING PREPARED FOR TRIP TO FOREIGN PORTS

ROCKLAND, Me., Oct. 21.—Preparations for a long voyage, which, it is understood, will extend to foreign ports, are hastily being completed here by the officers and crew of the barkentine Kingdom, which arrived yesterday from Portland with forty members of the Holy Ghost and US society of Shiloh on board. Several boat loads of provisions had been conveyed to the ship up to noon.

Capt. A. K. Perry, who is in charge of the vessel and is commodore of the society's small fleet, stated that he will get definite sailing orders at the next port they visit and that they will not return to Portland. He admitted that they were likely to go on a foreign voyage and will take out a bill of health from the Rockland custom house that will give them the right to visit any port in the world as the barkentine is registered as a yacht. The matter of abandoning Shiloh never has been considered, he declared.

Although he would say nothing as to the whereabouts of Lester Frank Sanford, it is understood that the yacht Coronet, on which Sanford has been sailing, recently was at Annapolis, Md.

THE CHORAL SOCIETY

A well attended rehearsal of the Choral society was held last night in the vestry of the First Presbyterian Congregational church. There were about 100 present and the different sections rehearsed showed that every member of the society is taking interest in its success.

At the next rehearsal, which will be Thursday, Oct. 27, at the same place, the society of the First Presbyterian Congregational church, there were about 100 present and the different sections rehearsed showed that every member of the society is taking interest in its success.

Rev. Jeremiah Atwood, bishop-elect of Arizona, is also a graduate of the Episcopal theological school at Cambridge. He was first stationed at Ipswich and for seven years was at St. James' church, Providence.

BROKERS FAILED
BOSTON, Oct. 21.—The failure of Robbins & Oppen, a stock brokerage firm of this city and New York with a seat on the consolidated exchange in the latter city, was announced today. At the local office it was stated that the extension of credit to customers, it was also stated that the liabilities were very small.

THE NAME OF FOSS

Will Appear Twice on the Ballot on Election Day

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Eugene N. Foss will make his first speech in the campaign for governor tomorrow evening at Tremont temple, when the state ticket will be ratified by a rousing meeting.

Sherman L. Whipple of Brookline, one of the best known lawyers in the state, will preside, so it was announced last evening by John F. McDonald, chairman of the executive committee of the state committee.

There will also be speeches by Chas. S. Hamlin and James H. Vahey, besides addresses by Mayor Fitzgerald and Thomas P. Riley of Malden. Rallies all over the state are being arranged for by the democratic state committee and by the first of the week Chairman Mitchell hopes to get the state campaign into a lively gait.

As "Progressive Democratic"

The nomination of Eugene N. Foss as "progressive democratic" candidate for governor was not withdrawn from the office of the secretary of state yesterday afternoon, and as the time for such withdrawal expired at 5 p. m. Mr. Foss' name must appear on the official ballot under two designations—democratic and progressive democratic.

It will be optional with Mr. Foss as to the order in which they appear, but in the absence of a direction from him to the contrary the secretary will probably place the regular democratic nomination ahead of that secured by nomination papers.

Danger in Two Designations

There is a provision of the statute which defines the "two leading political parties" to be those having the largest and next largest number of votes cast for their respective candidates for governor, and it is here, if at all, that the democratic party may lose, as it is possible that Mr. Foss may attract more votes as a "democratic progressive" than as a plain "democrat."

Should this be the case, the "democratic progressive" party, instead of the "democratic" party, would be entitled to its share of such patronage as the law says shall go to each of the two leading parties.

As the time for making changes in the state ticket expired at 5 o'clock last night, it is now certain for the first time just how the state ticket will be made up.

It appears that there will be five candidates, under six designations, for governor; five candidates for each of the offices of lieutenant governor, secretary of the commonwealth and treasurer and receiver general; four candidates for auditor and the same number for attorney general.

THE STATE TICKET

The names of the candidates and the order in which they will appear on the official ballot are as follows:

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept circulating round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. "Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of ever-work without food, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil." After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was put out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown; a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

Sum of $1,000,000
Was Contributed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Contributions of one million dollars for the world wide expansion of the Young Men's Christian Association, $540,000 of which was given by John D. Rockefeller, were announced yesterday at the conference of Young Men's Christian Association workers in the East room of the White House. President Taft addressed the delegates and heartily endorsed the organization.

Mr. Rockefeller's gift tendered on the condition that a like amount be raised, was met by contributions from many prominent laymen interested in the movement, among them John Wanamaker, Cleveland H. Dodge of New York, who pledged funds for two buildings in the Levant; S. W. Woodward of Washington, $85,000 for a building in Kobe, Japan; James Stokes and an unknown donor $100,000 for a building at Moscow; John Penman of Paris, Ontario, $50,000 for a building at Hankow, China; John W. Rose, for the Montreal Y. M. C. A., $40,000 for a building at Canton, China; Dupont Clark, Jr., funds for a building at Bangalore, India, and citizens of Buffalo, $35,000 for buildings at Tokyo.

Mr. Wanamaker offered to erect another building in China besides five foreign association buildings already given by him.

The subject of the conference was extension of the movement into the Far East, the near east, and into Latin America.

More than 200 laymen from 21 states and Canada were present and were welcomed by President Taft who gave the expansion project his earnest approval and pledged to it his active support.

Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, outlined a program for expansion of the movement. The plan involves the addition of fifty experts in the far east during the next three years to direct the policy, the erection of 45 buildings in ten nations to pro-detection.

Your local dentist will charge you about four times as much as he would—he doesn't do much business, so he must "get it out of you"; besides he does not know how to do it painlessly, and, in nine cases out of ten, he performs operations with old-fashioned instruments which enable him to do only inferior work. My invention I control solely, and when anything new comes out I buy it. Remember—my patrons get the latest and best, and for less money.

Best set Teeth $5, good set $5. Gold crowns $5, bridge work $5, gold fillings $1 up, other fillings 50c. painless extraction free when roots are ordered.

The countries to be benefited include the Philippines, Japan, Korea, China, India and Ceylon; Russia, Turkey, Porto Rico, Cuba and Portugal.

Major General Leonard Wood, in addressing the laymen, commended the work of the association in Havana and Manila as valuable allies in making plain the unselfish duties of America in those countries.

Among other speakers were John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, Prof. Burton of the University of Chicago; General John Foster, George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Company and Melville E. Stone, general manager of The Associated Press.

SECRETARY OLIN

SAYS THAT HE PAID OUT THE
SUM OF $100

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Only one of five republican and two democratic candidates for nomination for offices to be voted for at the state election paid anything to secure that nomination, according to the returns of the expenses which have been filed with the secretary of the commonwealth.

Sec. William M. Olin, republican candidate for reelection, is the sole exception. He reported that he "paid the republican state committee $100."

Those who paid nothing are: Gov. Draper, Lieut. Gov. Frothingham, Treasurer Elmer A. Stevens, Auditor Henry E. Turner, Frederick W. Mansfield and Thomas P. Riley.

INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET

(Fall River Globe.)

The tournament conducted under the auspices of the International Aviation association will open at Belmont park, Long Island, on Saturday next and be continued for eight days. The event is one that is attracting world wide attention and some of the most noted aviators in this country and Europe will participate in the contest. Nothing in the history of aeronautics has approached the coming out in interest with the flyers, as well as the public, because in addition to the international aviation trophy, captured by Glenn Curtiss at Rheims last year, which determines the speed championship of the world, the men will fly for $50,000 in cash prizes, and a large share of the profits of the tournament, after the necessary expenses are paid.

One special prize of $10,000 is offered for a flight from Belmont park around the statue of Liberty, an altitude who reaches, or exceeds, an altitude of 10,000 feet, and other special prizes, besides the grand prizes for speed, distance, duration, etc.

Among those who are to enter in these events is John B. Moisant, a Chicagoan, but who has done all his flying in Europe and who recently came into prominence through having made a flight from France to London, taking his mechanical aid with him on the trip.

Mr. Moisant is an enthusiast and forceful promoter of the development of the aeroplane. Would that his predictions might be realized, for then mankind would see the passing of wars and the people everywhere be relieved from the staggering burden of maintaining great and costly navies and armies.

Speaking of the future possibilities of the airship in an interview, he said: "It means the revolution of the world. It will mean the end of the war, for the aeroplane will render armies and navies useless. What would become of any army when a fleet of ten thousand or fifteen thousand aeroplanes, flying at the rate of one hundred miles an hour and at a height of two miles, suddenly swept through the sky, dropping a rain of nitro-glycerine? If the army should stand still it would mean its annihilation. But it would not stand. A panic would strike it that no human power could stop and it would become a disintegrated, fleeing, fear-maddened body. When aeroplanes reach such a stage in their development you will get no men to join your army or to board your battleships."

Thirtieth Anniversary Sale

A Sale That Will Surprise Lowell

A Sale of Interest to Every Man, Woman and Boy

A Sale That Will Crowd Our Store

20,000 in Bargains—$20,000 in Bargains

HISTORICAL

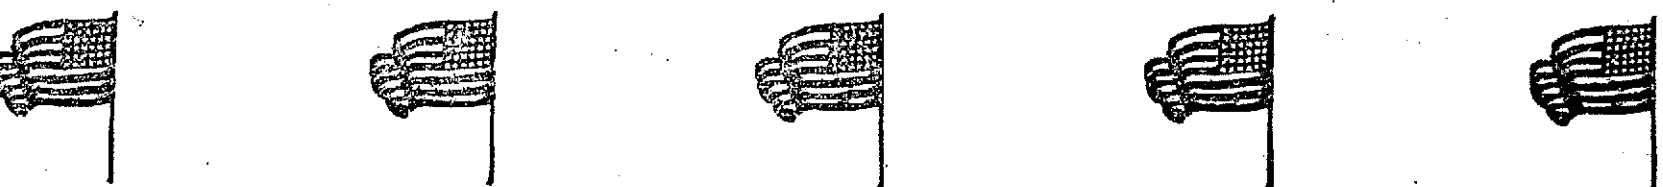

Thirty years ago we bought out the well known store of Wheeler & Son and commenced business in Lowell—in a few years we outgrew our store and took in the stores of T. R. Garrity & Co., and Frank E. Ferris's Shoe Store and our business immediately doubled. In 1902 our store became too cramped up for our growing business and we hired the entire American House Block and commenced tremendous alterations. Taking out the second floor, making our store extremely high and building out in the rear almost 50 feet deeper. This gave us the lightest, brightest and biggest floor space in Lowell and the largest in New England (Clothing) with one exception.

THIRTY YEARS HAVE PASSED

And we stand at the head of the clothing business of Lowell. Thirty years at the American Block and thirty years of success—it's a record to be proud of—Now we are going to celebrate—Now we are going to cause a sensation—The biggest bargain sale ever attempted—Thirty years and the people of Lowell will remember and celebrate it with us, we propose to give

WILL TAKE PLACE

Saturday Morning at 9 O'Clock

In our announcement of September 16th we promised the women of Lowell a series of waist sales—we held our first last month—and sold the entire lot, 468 waists, in about half the time allotted for the sale. Of course we lost money, but we accomplished our object—getting at least three hundred women wearing Merrimack Waists and they do not belong to the never-come-back club, because they have bought more waists since and paid regular prices, increasing our waist business about 40 per cent., which is our sole object in having these sales. We intend doing the waist business of Lowell, and know that once we get a woman to wear a Merrimack Waist she will never wear any other make.

Our second Waist Sale will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, and we will offer 963 of the best waists in our store in two lots, for SATURDAY ONLY—

Lot No. 1

360 ALL SILK WAISTS, in all colors and sizes, that are marked $5, $6, $7 and $8. Saturday at 9 A. M.

$2.95

These Waists will be displayed in our windows all day Friday, but will not go on sale until Saturday at 9 A. M.

Lot No. 2

603 WHITE LINEN and LAWN WAISTS, that are marked $1.50, $2, $3 and $4. Saturday at 9 A. M.

95c

The only restriction we will have to put on this sale is, that on account of the prices being so much under what they cost us at wholesale, we will limit each customer to 3 Waists and none will be sold or reserved before 9 A. M. Saturday

PANIC AVERTED

Children Marched Over Blazing Stairs

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—But for the presence of mind of Principal Lincoln Owen there would have been a panic at 2.25 yesterday afternoon in the Rice grammar school for girls and boys at Dartmouth and Appleton streets, south end, following the discovery of a fire in the basement on the southerly side of the structure.

A blaze which started among a pile of waste paper spread rapidly, igniting a portion of the ceiling in the basement and communicating to the woodwork under a stairway which leads to one of the exits on Dartmouth street.

While passing through the first floor the principal saw smoke rolling up the stairway. The teachers had smelled the smoke, glanced into the hallway and had seen the principal making his way toward where the smoke came from.

A moment later the signal for a fire drill was given by Mr. Owen and inside of two minutes every one of the 700 pupils had fallen into line and marched to the street in perfect order, taking positions which would not interfere with the firemen when they arrived, as Mr. Owen had given an alarm from box 212, located on the outside of the building.

Several hundred of the children had to march directly down over the stairway which was on fire. The flames had eaten their way through the woodwork close to the wall and the smoke was spurting through the crevices when the children, who happened to be the youngest of the pupils, swung out of the hallway in perfect order.

WOMEN REGISTER

TO VOTE FOR TRUSTEES OF UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Four hundred and ninety women of Chicago registered yesterday. The votes of these, thus enrolled, may be cast next month for candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois. The total falls short of the expectations of equal-suffrage agitators who had been conducting an "educational" campaign to bring members of their sex to the polls. All female enrollment was in 243 precincts, being less than one-fifth of the total precincts in the Chicago election districts.

In three wards—the fourth, eleventh and sixteenth—not a woman registered on either of the days when the books were open.

THE B. & M. ROAD

Will Not Contest the Rate in N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 21.—In response to the letter recently sent to Governor Quinby by President Mellon of the Boston & Maine railroad, announcing that the road would not further contest the rate now pending against it in this state, Governor Quinby yesterday wrote to President Mellon that he regarded his statement of the position of the Boston & Maine in this matter as absolutely candid and fair. Governor Quinby in his letter says:

"I believe the people of New Hampshire will be ready to meet you in the same spirit and agree to any equitable adjustment which will conduce to the prosperity of both state and corporation."

O. M. I. "WALKING SQUAD" The "Walking Squad" of the O. M. I. Cadets, composed of the boys who walked from Boston to Lowell several weeks ago, will meet at Immaculate Conception school hall at 7.30 tonight.

MILLS CLOSED

BECAUSE OF A SHORTAGE OF WATER

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 21.—On account of the low water in the Merrimack river, it being at a point lower than for several seasons at this time of the year, it has been found necessary to shut down a large portion of the Amoskeag manufacturing plant.

It has been found necessary to close the Langdon, Amory and Jefferson mills and No. 1 of the Manchester mills and about half of the worsted spinning plant on the southern division.

It will be necessary to close two days earlier the mills at the north end until there is sufficient water in the Merrimack river to operate them, running them only a portion of the day.

FREAK ROOSTER

THE CAUSE OF A SUIT IN NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 21.—On account of a rooster with four legs instead of two, Alfred Dion has brought suit by which he hopes to recover from Joseph Charon of Central Falls the sum of $400 and the bird in question.

Mr. Dion raised the rooster, and Mr. Charon offered to pay Mr. Dion $7 a week for the rent of the rooster to exhibit at the Brockton fair last year, a proposition to which the owner of the bird acceded, Mr. Charon agreeing, according to the plaintiff, to return the bird in a few weeks. But Charon never came back, nor did the rooster, and Mr. Dion was told that the rooster had died. New Bedford people, however, who went to the Brockton fair this year came back with tales of a four-legged rooster that was being exhibited for compensation at the fair, and Mr. Dion had reason to believe that the quadruped was his.

SCHOONER ABANDONED

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Mariners and harbor men rubbed their eyes in astonishment this morning when they beheld a vessel standing upright, high and dry, on Little Faun bar, close to the seawall near Hull. Later the craft was identified as the venerable schooner Nat Ayer of Bangor, Me., bound from the Penobscot city for Hingham with 140,000 feet of lumber. The schooner piled up on the bar during a stiff blow at 11.30 o'clock last night and as she rests on a bed of rocks it is regarded as probable that she has found her final resting place. The crew of five men abandoned the old lumber-carrier at midnight and rowed to Deer Island.

The Ayer anchored during a dense fog late yesterday and when the weather cleared Captain Coleman had the jibs hoisted and attempted to run for port. The headsails took the wind on the wrong side, however, and the anchor was again let go but it failed to hold, the vessel striking Little Faun bar at about flood tide. Today there was no water about the schooner and men walked around her. She is considerably strained and it will be difficult to float her.

The Nat Ayer was built at City Island, N. Y., in 1866 and was launched under the name of the M. W. Griffing. She was afterwards rebuilt and sold to Bangor men.

VALUES COLLAPSE

I have no sentimental regard for the cost price, for the market value, for the inherent worth of things, when I decide to make a market for those things

I'd be kidding only myself if I told you that this Key West weather in October was not hurting my winter clothing business trade. I'd be kidding only myself if I carried over till next year the goods I ought to sell this winter.

I can't bring home my immense stock of WINTER OVERCOATINGS AND SUITINGS and frame them. I must sell them. You must buy them. I say you must buy them because I'm going to sell them FRIDAY AND SATURDAY at prices that will make you buy them.

This Don't Need Big Type

Look at the clothing ads. in this paper. Look at the prices—the $20, the $25, the $30, what do you suppose they mean? These prices mean the honest attempt of merchants to sell you as low as they can. The best they can do is what they are doing; I admit it. Those prices mean you are paying a lot more than you used to pay for clothing as well as for everything else. Why do you do it? You don't have to do it. I'll prove it to you FRIDAY and SATURDAY by cutting these prices in halves.

DR. G. F. MARTIN

Talk on Inspection of Dairies

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, chairman of the local board of health, was one of the principal speakers at the hearing held in Centralville Odd Fellows hall yesterday by the special commission appointed to frame a new bill relative to the inspection of dairies. A Mr. Emerson of Haverhill also spoke on the question of inspection.

The greater portion of the hearing was reported in yesterday's edition of The Sun.

Mr. Emerson of Haverhill frankly admitted he did not like the publication in newspapers of that city of the amount of bacteria in samples of milk taken and the names of producers from whom it was taken, as he did not consider it fair. Milkmen, he said, live today under constant fear of the law, but farmers cannot live, he said, up to all the requirements and earn an honest living.

Mr. Emerson further said that if the law was vigorously enforced there would not be falls enough in the state to hold the convicted persons. He believed there should be opportunity given to discuss the chemical qualities of milk. The report of the state inspector of dairies, he said, was not satisfactory. The state board of agriculture, he said, has taken the method of advertising farmers in their report who come up to what they term the standard on milk supply. He contended that he lived up to all the requirements of the board, but he did not want their advertising.

Mr. Emerson said he was one of the first men in the state to advocate cleanliness in handling milk. The state board of health, he said, commends the water supply of Haverhill. That water was used for his cows, but the state inspector in his marking of his premises did not consider the water supply up to the demands of the state board of agriculture.

Mr. Emerson created laughter when he said there were milk inspectors who could not milk a cow, but those men have suggested to farmers of experience the best kind of a pail to use when milking cows. Mr. Emerson closed by saying there were just as honest men in the milk business as could be found in this state. They are ready to assist in obtaining a better milk supply, but they will not submit to be driven or nagged by inexperienced men.

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, chairman of the Lowell board of health, was sharp in his comments and on what was being demanded for the interest of Lowell residents. He said in part:

"We recognize we are attempting to solve a hard problem in attempting to secure a good milk supply for Lowell, but our principal demand has been a clean supply. One man has said at this hearing he was in favor of cutting out all inspection by boards of health, but to intelligent men that means there is need of inspection of milk, barns and dairies. I object to any plan by which producers will be allowed to sell cheap milk. I am aware from what I hear in my office there is a demand for it. Realizing its danger to public health I will not favor it. There is not a farm within 10 miles of Lowell on either side that can furnish certified milk."

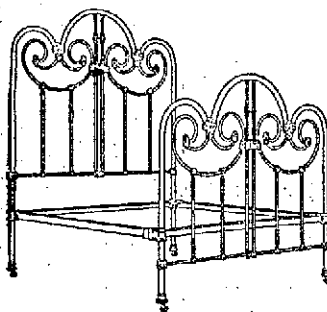

"Men who want certified milk will have to pay the price. It is supplied to a few hospitals and a limited number of rich persons. It is not an issue in this question as no one is asking farmers to produce it generally. A score card system on the inspection of milk must be handled in a reasonable manner. Men of ordinary intelligence without great expense, can meet the demands of the Lowell board of health. It is a question beyond dispute that impure milk is a great spreader of disease and on that account producers should exercise great care. I realize it is a hardship on a farmer to be prosecuted for selling milk not up to the standard, which comes from a healthy cow. In our board we only ask cleanliness on the part of producers."

The subject was discussed at length by DeLacey Corkum and George P. Greenwood of Billerica, A. E. Dutton of Chelmsford, and Ex-Alderman E. A. Howe of Lowell.

Cash Corruptly

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Eugene N. Foss, democratic candidate for governor, is after Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. In a statement issued last night Mr. Foss took the senator to task for his statements before the Postmasters' association of New England at the annual meeting in this city Wednesday evening, when the senator, coming from Massachusetts, decried the use of force, fraud and money in elections.

It is a far cry from the Butler-Robinson campaign of 27 years ago, when Mr. Lodge conducted the republican fight as chairman of the republican state committee, with George D. Robinson of Chelsoe as the candidate, but Mr. Foss declares that money was lavishly used at that time by the republicans to beat Butler and that they have used it in every campaign since. He reminds the senator that the public has not forgotten the Shaw-Gardner campaign for congress a few years ago, when he alleges the senator's son-in-law, Congressman Augustus Peabody Gardner, "practically covered the district with a blanket of bank notes and expenditures ran up into the scores of thousands of dollars."

Mr. Foss also took a shot at Congressman Greene for the latter's reported remarks before the postmasters on the same occasion, when the latter, he charges, practically told the officeholders to get out and hustle for the republican party this fall.

Mr. Foss' Statement

Mr. Foss' statement follows:

"I was very much interested this morning in reading Senator Lodge's speech before the Postmasters' association of New England. Senator Lodge decried the use of money in political campaigns and seemed to feel that such use of money was dangerous and corrupting. In order that I may not be accused of misrepresenting Senator Lodge I will quote from the reports in the morning papers extracts from his speech. The senator said:

"More important than the tariff and the cost of living to the welfare of the state and the assurance of the people that the vote of the people will be the fair and full expression of their beliefs, and that the methods by which candidates are elected will be those which commend themselves to the best judgment of the people.

"Force or fraud in the conduct of elections are the forerunners of revolution and are utterly hostile to the principles of American government. There is hardly anything more dangerous to the republic than to have either the election or the nomination of public officers controlled by force or fraud or by what is more insidious and sinister in its influence, the large expenditure of money. We want men to govern, the United States and not money. 'I know that a campaign cannot be conducted without campaign funds, but that is different from pouring in huge masses of money to gratify a single ambition. It will be a sorry day for the country if it ever comes to pass that the result of an election is determined by votes bought or sold.'

Time for Senator to Reform

"I am very glad to see that Senator Lodge has experienced a change of heart. It is time. There are those who have not yet forgotten Senator Lodge's early campaigns for congress when his district was flooded with money, how this scholar in politics studied his check book more than works on political economy and depended upon it to do his work."

Revolt at Hanna Campaign

"The republican party in state and nation for years, more years than many of the voters can now remember, has always gathered big funds to gather for a candidate. There are millions of dollars have been contributed by corporations and through private sources by beneficiaries of the high tariff legislation that Senator Lodge is responsible for, not merely to corrupt the electorate, but to send men to Washington in both branches of congress who would bid the bidding of the men who paid the bills."

"So notorious was this when the late Senator Hanna conducted his famous 'business man's campaign' that the public began to demand a change. The democratic party insisted that this sort of corruption cease. Public sentiment grew so strong that corporations were forbidden by law to make contributions."

"The republican party in this state, of which Senator Lodge is the head, has time and again flooded the state with money."

"Senator Lodge and his son-in-law are known to have used money with so lavish a hand, that the democratic party has been unable to find a man who would dare to run against Congressman Gardner, because it was known of all men that money would be spent like water by the Lodge-Gardner combine, and has had to draft men from outside the district in order to secure a candidate."

What Did Greene Mean?

"Senator Lodge says: 'There is hardly anything more dangerous to the republic than to have either the election or the nomination of public officers controlled by force or fraud, or by what is more insidious and sinister in its influence, the large expenditure of money.'

"Let us look at that statement and consider before whom it was made and what the previous speaker, Congressman Greene, had said, so immediately just before that the echoes of his voice had hardly died away."

much the same way. Don't deceive yourselves about this."

"What did he mean?"

Would Taft Remove Them?

"Has any man who reads that declaration any doubt about his meaning?"

"He served notice then and there in the presence of Senator Lodge to those postmasters that if they didn't get out and work for the republican party they would lose their jobs and the civil service wouldn't save them. And this in a state campaign in which Senator Lodge says national issues have no part."

"He notified those postmasters that they must get out and hustle as postmasters for the republican party or they would lose their jobs, and this with a republican president only halfway through his term of office."

"If you have the idea that the principle of the civil service will keep you in office you want to disabuse your minds of that idea."

"Is this an intimation that President Taft will punish those postmasters who do not respond to this lash of the whip by removal? Is not what is it?"

"Isn't this using force in a most cowardly and contemptible way? Isn't this holding up the promise of punishment if these public servants do not get out and work, holding up before them a threat not even velled by any disguise whatsoever."

"And when the postmasters get out and work are not their carriers and office force expected to do the same thing?"

"Did Senator Lodge Protest?"

"Did Senator Lodge protest against this threat of Congressman Greene? Did this man who fears the use of force or fraud see any menace to honest elections by these orders to federal office holders under public pay to neglect their work and on time the government pays for dig down into partisan politics, use their letter carriers as they have repeatedly used them even within the year, as they were used in the 14th district against me only last spring; did Senator Lodge see no danger to the republic in work of that kind? Did he see no danger in the formation of an officeholders' organization under orders to get out and hustle for the party that gave them their jobs as a reward for previous political service and which insists upon their keeping up their political activity while holding government positions of trust or responsibility?"

"Do these men imagine that the great mass of the voters do not see through them?"

What Happened in Hanson

"In the recent contest for nominations to the legislature a man was running as a candidate on the republican ticket in the little town of Hanson. He had declared himself opposed to the continuance of the rule of Boss Lodge."

"Federal office holders were sent into that district. On the day of the caucus taxicabs and automobiles from Boston were sent to that town and the lame, the halt and the blind were dragged to the polls and all the power of the state committee, all the power that money could bring into that contest, was exerted and the Lodge candidate won by a few votes."

"It was a lavish use of money in the interests of Senator Lodge, to defeat the will of the republicans of the town of Hanson, and it succeeded. A poor man had no show. It takes money to hire automobiles and taxicabs, send them from Boston to Hanson, have them work all day and return to Boston, and a poor man can't afford to do it."

"Will Senator Lodge deny that this was done in his interest?"

"I await his reply with interest."

Public Not to Be Fooled

"O, the public isn't going to be fooled by this assumption of virtues on the part of men who have been playing 'practical politics' with all that this implies for years. All the virtues do not lie under the hat that covers the head of Senator Lodge, nor are all the vices to be found in democratic quarters."

"Certain expenditures in politics owing to latter day conditions are necessary and these expenditures must be met until the government steps in as it should step in and pay all the legitimate expenses of election and the borne by the government, and there must be no other expenses whatever."

"I have spent money in elections and have honestly made returns of such expenses are required to be filed. These records can be seen and I defy Senator Lodge to find one single item of expense that was for money improperly spent or corruptly spent."

"I have used considerable money on campaigns of education in the newspapers, because the great majority of the press of Massachusetts is republican and ignore to a large extent any campaign utterances that might injure republican prospects, and I have been forced into the advertising columns in order to show the people how they are being robbed by the Payne-Adair tariff and to arouse them to an opportunity to strike at those responsible for the high cost of living and the unjust burden placed upon them and their families by the class of men who, posing at political purists, order federal office holders gathered together for the purpose to drop their public duties and get out and hustle for the republican party or lose their jobs."

MEETING OF D. A. R.

Old Bay State Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Wednesday night at the home of Miss Horne Tabor at 82 Riverside street. At the conclusion of the business meeting Miss Elizabeth Daine read an article on the surrender of Cornwallis. A glowing eulogy followed, in which Miss Merchant and Miss Houser won the prizes. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Helen Lombard and Miss Cora E. Parker.

the suggestion of Senator Hazenpflug. He was not interested in the fate of the bill one way or the other, he declared. About all he had told Foelker, he said, was that if Foelker thought anything of his political future he had better not vote for the bills, otherwise he could do as he thought fit. Schroeder declared that nothing was said about money in his conversations with Foelker or Hazenpflug or anyone else. He said he had never talked with Senator Gardner about the measure at any time.

After excusing Schroeder and leaving the prison, the committee had luncheon. It was undecided at that time what their next proceeding would be.

The husband is charged with being interrupted; and in the presence of several persons, to have accused Cone of taking too great an interest in Mrs. Adler. The accusation, to which objection was taken, was alleged to have been made in the latter part of September, 1918.

Cone also claims that an unexplained contract with the Adler Theatre company which he has been prevented from carrying out by reason of

BUSINESS CONDITIONS:
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate that recent improvement in general business has been interrupted by the warm weather in many sections which has checked the demand for fuel and winter merchandise. Boston reports the fair volume of orders in jobbing houses, sales in some branches succeeding last year's but recent weather has not favored distribution of seasonable goods and cotton trade is generally quiet. The retail goods market is firmer and more active at present hand while perceptible improvement appears in wool.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States aggregate $3,292,222,391, a loss of only $14,244,244 per cent, with the same week last year.

The Steamship Passed Believed to Have Land- Through the Ice in Canada

Through Hurricane

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—With her thirty or more passengers heartily thankful that they were able to set foot on land once more after passing safely through the thick of the recent tropical hurricane, the Southern Pacific steamer Comus reached port today from New Orleans four days late.

The Comus left New Orleans on Wednesday, Oct. 12, and had hardly got out into the gulf when the storm broke. C. DeF. Molyneux, secretary to G. W. Luce, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific company, who was on his way here from San Francisco on the Comus, told the story today of the existing experiences of the steamer in the terrible blow.

"Things began to look alarming on Thursday," said Mr. Molyneux, "and on Friday conditions grew rapidly worse. By Friday night we were in the thick of the blow, which Captain Maxon said was the worst he had experienced in seven years' sailing of these waters. Although the hatches were battered and everything was locked tight water forced its way into some of the staterooms. The decks were continually swept, the steamer pitched and rolled frightfully, and everybody, even the captain, was up to the help for lost. Men and women got down on their knees and prayed for deliverance. With the wind blowing 100 miles an hour and the vessel pitching terribly the prospects looked blue.

"Conditions improved the day following but the wind continued phenomenally high and there was not enough sun for an observation. An effort was made to find the vessel's location by soundings but without result. By Monday things were improved enough to give us some confidence and on Tuesday when the captain was able to get an observation and head for the Florida straits we all felt that we had weathered the worst experience in our lives."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 21.—Three balloons, the America II, Aurora, and Dusseldorf II, contestants for the international balloon cup and prizes, remain to be reported. It is believed at the secret club that the aerostats have landed in the wilds of Canada.

The Germania, according to a telegram from Haleybury, Ontario, was seen there yesterday, going northeast into the forests of northern Quebec. The America II, the only American entry unreported, carried thirty bags of ballast. Aeronomas here do not believe it could remain in the air 37 hours, from the time when it left here Monday until 4 o'clock this morning.

The last balloon to land was the Iselveta, piloted by Col. Schaak, winner of the race from Berlin in 1909. He landed in Pontiac county, Quebec, 350 miles from St. Louis, Wednesday. So far the balloon which was reported to have passed over Kirkling, Ontario, is believed to have gone the greatest distance, about 1100 miles. This balloon has broken all world's records made in competition.

THE GERMANIA LANDS

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Oct. 21.—The balloon Germania landed at this place, 50 miles from here. Villa Maria is reached by boat three times a week from here. Only the brief message that the balloon had landed has so far been received.

HE HAS RESIGNED

Baker Out as Head of the New York Police Department

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Police Commissioner Baker resigned yesterday afternoon after three brisk talks with Mayor Gaynor. In Baker's place the mayor puts James C. Crosey, a personal friend and a Brooklyn lawyer little known to the politicians. Frederick H. Bugher, first deputy commissioner, handed in his resignation an hour or two before Commissioner Baker let go.

To succeed him, the mayor named Clement J. Driscoll, commissioner of weights and measures.

Charles W. Kirby, the second deputy, did not observe the formality of penning a resignation, but the mayor, aware of Kirby's attitude, dispensed with the paper and appointed as his successor William J. Flynn, who has been chief of the secret service in this city for eleven years.

The first manifestation of activity by the new officials was the raiding of five alleged gambling houses, from which the grand jury had returned thirty-one indictments—five houses that were not on Acting Mayor Mitchell's list.

It had been known for two weeks around city hall that William F. Baker was to go. The mayor had become dissatisfied with the commissioner, not so much because of John Purry Mitchell's accusations that Baker was ineffectual and inefficient but principally because he had come to consider Baker no ornament to his administration.

There had been squabbles between Commissioner Baker and First Deputy Bugher, with commissioner and subordinate running to the mayor to air their grievances. For two weeks, the intention of the mayor to eliminate the three chiefs has been quietly current.

FOREST FIRES

Cause Postponement of Open Season

MONTEPELLER, Vt., Oct. 21.—The danger of forest fires increased by the season of drought which has left the forests in an unusually dry condition has prompted Gov. John A. Mead to issue a proclamation postponing the open season for one week.

Governor Mead declares that unless heavy rains come within the next week he will further postpone the opening of the season. Like action was taken last year by Governor Prouty. The season was to have opened on next Monday.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

One of the finest dramatic sketches ever presented in this city, is the "Price of Power" now being acted at The Academy, by Mr. Leo Cooper assisted by Miss C. Frances Lewellyn. It must be seen to be appreciated. Edward & Manny are a clever comedy musical duo and Rogers, Fontaine, and Moore are a lively singing and dancing trio. The work of Mr. Rogers reminds one strongly of Richard Carle. New moving pictures complete the bill. Admission 5 and 10 cents. Don't forget, next Wednesday night amateurs.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Among those on the vaudeville stage who can invariably be relied upon to give comedy personations worth while is Tom Nawn, headlined this week at Hathaway's theatre in "When Pat Was King."

If you like endmen who talk bright patter, and soloists who possess pleasing voices and a real polished interlocutor, all rolled into the old fashioned minstrel half circle, then don't miss the Russells & Smith minstrels. Singing and Reading have a cyclot combination of music and fun; Edith A. Montrose gives a half dozen characters; Ray W. Snow proves himself a likely monologist; Adonis and his dog open the show well, and motion pictures close it.

THEATRE VOYONS

The man who seldom laughs will find in "The Cowboy's Mother-in-Law," one of the pictures at the Theatre Voyons today, a comedy that will make him laugh loudly. It's a well told story with unusually clever comedians and a setting that is strange in comedy pictures. The joke practiced on the bullying cowboy by his friends is well deserved, but none the less effective. The present day craze for navigating the air is entered to in a most interesting film showing the Curtiss aeroplane factory at Hammondsport, New York, and the construction of airships there. Malthoid Roofing

We want builders to see us about roofing. We want to demonstrate why it is to your advantage to roof your building with Malthoid Roofing—and we will do this to your complete satisfaction.

We will show you beyond any question that Malthoid is the very highest type of roofing perfection and made so well that it will last as long as the building it covers.

We will show you that Malthoid is a better roofing than shingles—is more satisfactory than iron—is cheaper than tin—in fact, we can prove that there is no other roofing known to the building trade that is as good—as durable—as long lasting—as water proof—as fire resisting and as cheap as Malthoid Roofing.

It has got every other brand of ready roofing marking time while it is progressing—there is more of it sold on the Pacific Coast than all other brands combined and it speaks well for the intelligence of builders that this is so.

The makers of Malthoid Roofing—The Paraffine Paint Co. of San Francisco and Chicago know their business for they have been at it for twenty-six years and they not only make this roofing to sell but they make it to last and to please the people who buy it.

They would rather have the good will of the builder than his money—and they get both by the way they make Malthoid Roofing.

If you have roof troubles of any kind or of any description—no matter what kind of a roof you have on your building, see us at once and we will help you out of your difficulty.

D. T. Sullivan

the cleverest of the Curtiss students perform circus stunts in airships that will thrill even those accustomed to the actual sight of these man birds. "The Legacy" is a plain story picture that will appeal to many for the lovable old couple who love their country home better than the city's style and fashion can be duplicated in almost every family.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

In presenting Mr. Douglas Flattery's new romantic drama, "Annie Laurie" at the Opera House on Oct. 28 and 29, local theatregoers will have the opportunity of seeing Australia's best actress, Miss Lillian Bacon, and one of the best Scotch plays ever offered to the American public. The management has surrounded Miss Bacon with a strong company and the entire production, scenic and costumes, is most elaborate. In the role of "Annie Laurie" Miss Bacon has a part particularly suited to her and one that gives her every opportunity to display the talent that made her famous in the land of the kangaroo. In creating a drama of that famous Scotch lassie, Mr. Flattery has given us a play that is absolutely original, for each character in the piece is unique.

"HE COMES FROM MILWAUKEE" Is it funny? It certainly is. Mr. Bernard has a lot of changes of costume in character and a duel scene which takes place in an uproar, but he had to work pretty hard to keep pace with the other principals. The music is all bright and tuneful, and the costumes and color schemes charming. "He Comes from Milwaukee" comes to the Opera House soon.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

A delightful, amusing, entertaining bill, full of variety and of just one standard of high excellence, is what is offered at the Merrimack Square theatre this week.

The sketch "In Camp Rest," presented by Carter, Taylor & Co. is the sort of a comedy idyll which will please the most discriminating palate. It is full of bright dialog and humorous situations and in a laugh-maker from start to finish. One should see it if one cares anything about thoroughly enjoying oneself.

Hansone & Company have a wonderfully good presentation of magic, with elaborate tricks and many of the unusual sight-of-hand order. The Sonnie Stock company also presents a delightful little love story in the one act play, "Hearts and Flowers."

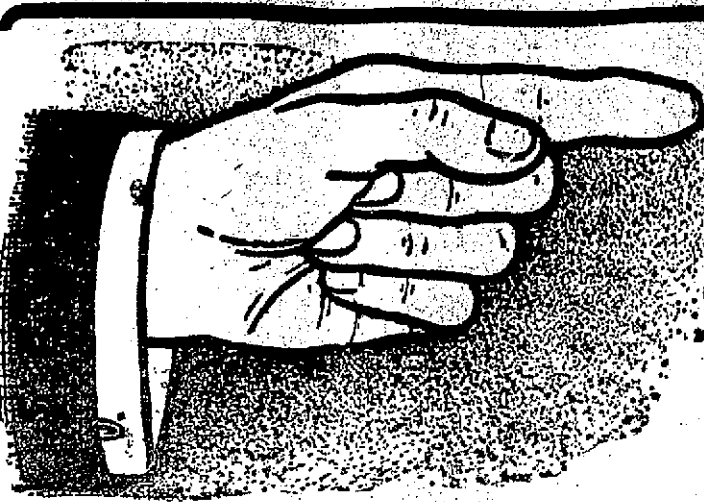

Bobby Jewett, "the American boy," has some bright songs and a race track monolog from Eddie Clark which will interest one, and Fred Rivenhall is an English comedian of high excellence. The best moving pictures are also on the bill.

One of next week's features, by the way, will be the Glendale Quartet, Lowell's own sweet singers. The "boys" have prepared a special act worthy of their home town.

A continuous performance is presented daily from 1 until 10:30 p. m.

Mrs. Olive McKay of Calais, Maine, is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. E. Harnden, of Merrimack street.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Senator Nelson Aldrich of Rhode Island was knocked down and painfully injured last night while he was returning alone to the home of his son on Park avenue, where he has been staying for several days. He is today under the care of physicians but his condition is not believed to be serious. News of the accident to the senator only leaked out through the routine information of the Presbyterian hospital that an ambulance from that institution had been summoned. The ambulance surgeon was informed on his arrival that the senator was being cared for by his son's family physician and would not require any other attention.

OUR SYSTEM OF CONFIDENTIAL CREDIT enables any honest person to buy all the latest styles at prices that cannot be duplicated by the cash stores. Our idea of doing business is to do a large volume at a small profit and to trust every honest person for all he needs.

When you are buying your clothing, examine the quality and see whether you are getting value or not—make sure that the garments have durable materials to insure wear; good workmanship to insure permanent shapelessness, and style and fit to insure you the individuality you are entitled to.

These points are all strongly emphasized in our

$10.00 to $25.00 Suits and Overcoats for men and young men.
$12.00 to $30.00 Suits, Coats and Dresses for Ladies.
$10.00 to $20.00 Suits and Coats for the young ladies.
$2.50 to $12.50 Millinery.

Every article that we carry is the best that the market offers. To make our business profitable, we must sell you—not once at a big profit—but all the time at a small profit.

OUR TOMORROW

Discussed by the Y. M. C. A.
Educational Secretary

At the October meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., held last evening at the home of Mrs. Albert F. French, 213 Parkview avenue, W. C. Smith, educational secretary of the Y. M. C. A. state committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island, spoke on the subject, "The Association as a Factor in the Education of Industrial Workers," but it concerned very largely the development of the association in the future, and stated what the association is doing to prepare men for lives of the most usefulness in the coming years. The session opened with a devotional service, conducted by Mrs. A. S. Woodworth, following which there was an organ recital in the music room of Mr. French's home, Mr. French and Miss L. Ella Calderwood being at the instrument. Mr. Smith was introduced and spoke as follows:

"That the Young Men's Christian Association has had a wonderful development in meeting the opportunity to serve young men in this field of service is instanced in its growth of 20 years, which is quickly proven by a few figures. Sixty-three of the associations employ educational secretaries, who supervise the work of 2500 teachers; directing the work of 53,000 students in 150 different subjects at a cost of $681,000, at the present time.

The Famous Rayo

Is the Lamp of Real Beauty

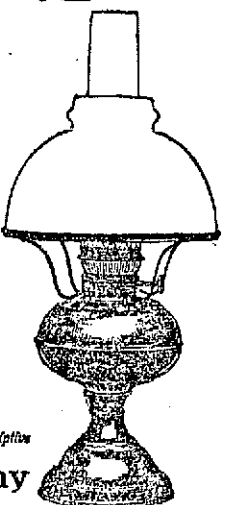

because it gives the best light of all lamps. The Rayo gives a white, soft, mellow, diffused light—easy on the eye because it cannot flicker. You can use your eyes as long as you wish under the Rayo light without strain.

The Rayo Lamp is low-priced, and even though you pay $5, $10 or $20 for other lamps, you may get more expensive decorations but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. A strong, durable shade-holder holds the shade on firm and true. This season's new burner adds strength and appearance.

as against no supervision with $60 paid teachers, working with 13,000 students covering 25 courses at an annual expense of $60,000, some 15 odd years ago. There are 11 apprentice and trade schools located in 48 many different cities. There are upwards of 3000 students doing day work in the associations, as they are not able to get the desired work in other institutions. There are over 10,000 employed boys between 14 and 17 years of age who are securing an education in the association."

Dr. D. B. Yarnell, general secretary, spoke upon educational work in Lowell.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the social committee of the auxiliary, made up of the following named: Mrs. Frank J. Spaulding, chairman; Mrs. Millard P. Davis, Mrs. Stanley Chrysler, Miss Ella M. Penn, Mrs. Fred M. Perkins, Mrs. Stephen W. Hands, Mrs. Arthur W. Garland, Mrs. John Kilpatrick, Mrs. Clarence A. McCoy, Mrs. Frank Putney, Mrs. O. M. Dow and Mrs. William Davis.

PIECE OF MEAT

LEOMINSTER, Oct. 21.—Napoleon Tatro, 30 years old, died as a result of a piece of meat becoming lodged in his windpipe and suffocating him. He was eating a hurried lunch at the F. A. Whitney Carriage company, where he was employed, and nobody seems to have seen him when the meat became lodged in the windpipe.

When discovered by fellow workmen writhing on the floor, a call was sent to Dr. Harry P. Blodgett. He succeeded in removing the meat from the windpipe, but it had been too firmly wedged in for Tatro to recover. He was black in the face and apparently dead when Dr. Blodgett reached him.

Tatro lived a few minutes after the meat was removed, but his life was at too low an ebb to be restored by artificial respiration. The piece of meat removed from his throat was three inches long and a half wide. It was jammed into the windpipe so far that it could scarcely be reached with instruments.

MGR. McDONOUGH

Is Made Prothonotary Apostolic

LEWISTON, Me., Oct. 21.—A brilliant and imposing church ceremony took place at St. Patrick's church yesterday, when Mgr. M. C. McDonough, rector of St. Patrick's and vicar general of the Portland diocese, was invested with the office of prothonotary apostolic. This is the first time this honor has been conferred on a priest in Maine.

Bishop Walsh presided at the investiture and Mgr. Trudel, the oldest priest in seniority in the diocese, with about 50 other priests from all parts of Maine, attended. A procession of the children, altar boys and visiting priests marched into the church at 11:15.

the children singing a hymn to the pope. The mayor and the city council had seats reserved in the body of the church.

The brief sent from Rome was read in Latin by Rev. Dr. Dralim, curate at St. Patrick's, who afterwards translated the words into English. This paper gave official announcement of the conferring of the honor and stated that it was in acknowledgement of Mgr. McDonough's zeal for religion and his work as a priest.

A small table, on which had been laid the insignia distinctive of this rank, was placed before the bishop's throne and there blessed by Bishop Walsh. The staff of the bishop was held aloft, the holy water was sprinkled upon the new robes and the censer was swung. This concluded the investiture ceremonies.

Mgr. McDonough, after kneeling before the high altar, withdrew to the sacristy, where he took off his purple robes as monsignor and donned the insignia of his office. Mgr. McDonough then ascended the altar steps and began his first solemn pontifical high mass. The officers were: Mgr. McDonough celebrant, Rev. P. E. Bradley of Lisbon Falls deacon, Rev. Eugene Gauthier of Lewiston subdeacon, Fr. T. H. Houlahan of the Cathedral and Rev. John Driscoll masters of ceremonies.

Bishop Walsh's assistants were Mgr. Trudel of Oldtown and Fr. Linahan of Kennebunk.

GREAT VELOCITY

Was Attained by the Wind

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Eastern New England had the first taste early today of the southern hurricane when the dull, sultry weather of the past three days gave way to a snapping, cool northeaster whose velocity reached 40 miles at exposed points like Nantucket and Block Island.

New Englanders waited several days for the arrival of the storm, southerner and all yesterday it seemed to be threatening, but the evening brought thick fog and calm weather.

Shortly before midnight the storm's influence reached up to the eastern coast and the wind began to pipe up from the northeast. By daylight it had reached a velocity of 48 miles an hour at Nantucket and 44 miles at Block Island, but as the sun rose the storm centre seemed to work farther off shore for the wind fell at 4 a. m. to 38 miles at Block Island. In this city the maximum was scarcely 20 miles an hour and at 8 a. m. it had dropped to 16 miles.

The storm at 8 a. m. today seemed to be central somewhere southeast of Nantucket, probably close to the steamer lane, for the little Nantucket lightship sent word by wireless to Newport that the seas were running in mountainous billows and that passing inbound steamers were rolling and wallowing in the big surges.

BABY'S ESTATE

IS ESTIMATED TO BE WORTH $500,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Gladys Martin, mother of James E. Martin, 3d, applied yesterday to Surrogate Jackson for letters of administration on the estate of her son, who died at Tuxedo Park, July 29, at the age of 4 years. The real estate is valued at $415,000 and the personal property at $85,000. Mrs. Martin applied for an allowance some time ago for her son from the surrogate for an auto and other incidentals, which would foot up to $20,000 a year.

SENATOR ELKINS' ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Friends of Senator Elkins, who is ill at Elkton, Va., are not at all reassured by letters reaching here concerning his condition. According to advisers the senator is constantly attended by a leading medical authority, who has as advisers three other eminent practitioners. Thus far, the physicians have not agreed as to their patient's illness. Two trained nurses are constantly with Senator Elkins, according to the report, and no other persons, not even members of the immediate family, are permitted to enter the sick room.

DR. ROLLER LOST

WORCESTER, Oct. 21.—Dr. R. F. Roller of South West failed to throw Hjalmar Lundin of Worcester after an hour of wrestling last night. Under the terms of the agreement Dr. Roller had to throw Lundin twice in an hour before he could be returned a winner.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Kelly, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

During political campaigns the need of a public hall is more keenly felt.

The time has arrived when the heating apparatus in every household must be set in operation.

Two shrewd theatrical managers snapped up the best sites for a public hall. They realize the advantages of a good location.

The prices of commodities have practically doubled since 1800, and there is no prospect of a change.

There are a great many conflicting opinions upon the matter of milk inspection, and a new law is proposed to provide more stringent regulations for the production and care of milk. The present law is sufficient if it be properly observed.

TWO WORTHY CANDIDATES

The democrats of Middlesex county should use all their votes and their influence for the election of Joseph L. Marin of Lowell and Dexter C. Whittemore of Carlisle, the nominees for county commissioners. They are men of integrity and ability and well qualified for the office. They should be elected.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

Judge Richardson in the equity court in Boston has decided that no party, class or organization can be favored at the expense of the city in the award of contracts for labor or material. The decision is one of great importance, although it is merely a repetition of a principle of law as old as the constitution.

MRS. JULIA WARD HOWE

The death of Julia Ward Howe has produced a wave of sympathy and sorrow throughout the entire country, for her name like her labors for the cause of humanity is universally celebrated. She was a woman of vast intellectual power, amiable character, with a humane sympathy that linked her with the weak and oppressed wherever found. The appreciation of her poetry, like that of her philanthropy, is enthusiastic and sincere. Although she lived beyond the age vouchsafed to most women, yet there is the most widespread and profound sorrow for her demise. But she will live on in her poetry, in her works for humanity and in the universal esteem in which she was held in every civilized land, but especially in this, her own country, where her patriotism and nobility of character were best understood.

Posterity will place a higher estimate upon her service to humanity than does the present generation, and her name will live in the annals of this country as one of the greatest women it has given to fame.

FOR A NEW CITY CHARTER

How long are we to hang on to the old city charter under which our municipal growth is retarded?

There are certain prime necessities that every city must have among which are prosperous industries, good and healthful habitations and good municipal government. In this census year we found a great many cities advancing to new undertakings in the line of public improvements and better government. Lowell is lagging behind on one matter alone, and that is charter reform.

Under the old instrument responsibility is centred nowhere and accordingly when things go wrong it is difficult to place the blame where it properly belongs.

What is needed is a new and up-to-date charter. The city of Lynn has adopted the commission form of charter that has been in force for some time in Haverhill. The western cities are fast moving towards this new form of charter, and many of them are already enjoying its advantages.

The unwieldy double chamber city council is too cumbersome for the prompt and effective transaction of business. It is too liable to beget deadlocks which tie up the city's business, and it often happens, too, that the thing done is not satisfactory to either board, being in many cases a compromise of differences.

Even then the acts of the city council may be vetoed by the mayor, and unless passed by a two-thirds vote over the mayor's veto there is more delay, more inaction, more compromises.

We want a city charter under which the city's business can be transacted in a business-like manner, just as the business of a large corporation is transacted. That is impossible under the present charter.

The city of Chelsea last night opened a three days' celebration of her recovery from the great fire of April 12, 1908, which wiped out the greater part of the city. Today the city has practically been rebuilt, and it will soon be as prosperous as ever. Here is an example of what the commission form of government can do for a city, provided the men chosen under it be able, honest and progressive. Where the governing body is small the citizens are more likely to choose their best men.

Lowell would make vastly more rapid strides onward under a new and up-to-date charter. Whether it be of the Iowa stamp or something different depends upon the wishes of the citizens. The cities that have adopted the commission idea as illustrated by the Des Moines or Iowa charter have no difficulty in deciding upon details as they adopt the instrument bodily, merely changing the name of the city.

If it is desired to avoid the trouble of making an original charter, that can be done by adopting a charter ready made, and one that has stood the test in scores of cities. Why not get out of our municipal swaddling clothes, throw aside provincialism and move on to greater and grander things?

SEEN AND HEARD

THE FORBIDDEN LURE

"Leave all and follow—follow!"
Lure of the sun at dawn,
Lure of the wind-paced hollow,
Lure of the stars withdrawn;
Lure of the brave old stinging
Brave perished minstrels knew;
Of dreams like sea waves ebbing
To boughs the night sits through.

"Leave us and follow—follow!"
The sun goes up—the day;
Fluttering wing of swallow,
Blossoms that blow away—
What would you lure, luring,
When I must bide at home?
My heart will break her mooring
And die in reef-flung foam!

Oh, I must never listen.
Call not outside my door.
Green leaves you must not glisten
Like water, any more.
Oh, Beauty, wandering Beauty,
Pass by; speak not. For see,
By bed and board stands Duty,
To snatch my dreams from me!

—Fannie Stearns Davis in Harper's.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Miss Gwendolyn Story, the eldest daughter of the well known sculptor, Waldo Story, who was spoken of as a probable star on the musical stage, has announced her engagement to Captain Stuart of the British army, who has just been appointed military attaché at the British embassy in Rome. A MYSTERY SOLVED

For years medical men have been seeking a cure for eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease; some said it was the result of indigestion. It remained for one studious chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in many forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist experimentally with many antiseptic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to hundreds of sufferers. Cadum ranks today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so just that the itching of eczema is stopped at once. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest soon after Cadum is applied. Cadum is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box. It is for eczema in all its forms, also for pimples, blotches, itch, tetter, scaly skin, eruptions, chafings, psoriasis, rash, sores, scurvy, scabs, etc.

has been, since her last visit to the United States, two years ago, when she was the guest of Secretary of the Navy Meyer and his wife, so fond of the Americans that she has received with the greatest pleasure the announcement of the military attaché's engagement, and will greet the bride with open arms. Miss Story was to have been the chief figure in the Greek play which was written by Ambassador Sir Rennell Rodd, to be given in the open air on the embassy lawn, but which was suspended by the death of King Edward.

Announcement was made of a conditional gift of $250,000 by John D. Rockefeller to the medical department of Western Reserve university. The gift, which is a personal one, is made conditional on the raising of $750,000 more by the university. H. M. Hanna, well known as a trotting horse owner and enthusiast, has pledged $250,000 of the remainder of the proposed million-dollar fund, according to the same announcement.

The number of visitors to Burns' birthplace for the year ended Sept. 30 was 47,456, as compared with 44,810 for the previous year, and the number of visitors to the monument was 47,087, as compared with 46,165.

Pascal Fava, a well to do Parisian, has bequeathed three dowries of $137,400 each, to be distributed by lot among girls who inscribe their names at the mayors' offices in their respective quarters of Paris before November 15, the only condition being that they must be over 16 and under 25. The number of names entered is already great, as $87 francs represents a good deal more in Paris than $137,400 does in New York. The winners will receive their dowries on the day they are married. Three years is allowed after the drawing for the winners to make up their minds and decide on partners. In the case of a girl failing to get married within that time her portion will be drawn for again.

Through the efforts of an American woman, Mrs. A. Mosher of Boston, a memorial stone now marks the grave of Margaret Fullup, a singer beloved in Brittany who was buried in a pauper's grave. Margaret Fullup was born of poor people and had a wonderful voice and an equally wonderful memory. She was by profession a pelfing par procurator, which means that she made pilgrimages for sick Bretons who could not undertake journeys themselves. Wherever she was entertained at hospitable dwellings she sang for the inmates and their friends like the minstrels of old, and it is largely through her that many of the ancient ballads of Brittany are still known, for she learned all that she could discover and sang them throughout the country.

She died in poverty, and though every Breton knew Margaret Fullup's name it was the task of an American to see that her grave was honored. Mrs. Mosher, who loves Brittany and is loved in return by the Bretons for her interest in them and their welfare, has spent most of the summer interesting people in this Breton songstress. She subscribed largely herself and through the efforts of friends obtained enough money for a handsome monument to Margaret Fullup, which was erected recently in the little cemetery at Ploguizel, near Lannion. At the unveiling of the monument speeches were made and tributes paid to the singer by many of the poets and prose writers of Brittany.

Few diseases inflict upon their victims greater suffering than do dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble. If you have dyspepsia or indigestion in any form do not ruin your stomach with drugs. Use

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutriment necessary to their sustenance and indirectly to the whole system strength and vigor.

a great while ago was divorced from his wife, Elsie French, arrived in New York Monday. It had been said that he had joined on the previous day—somewhere in the middle west—Mrs. Smith Hollins McKim, a daughter of the rich Emerson-Bronson-Seitzer family of Baltimore, who had just obtained a divorce at Reno, and that he (Mr. Vanderbilt) was engaged to marry Mrs. McKim.

Mr. Vanderbilt refused to see any one after his arrival. A note sent to him, asking him point-blank if he were going to marry Mrs. McKim, had not elicited a reply. The hotel attaches said that Mr. Vanderbilt maintained rooms all the year round at the Plaza, had his own keys, and they didn't know when he came in or went out.

An interesting Graphophone entertainment was held last night at the the People's branch of the club in the Biddle building. There was a large attendance and inasmuch as it was the first entertainment of the season it is expected that this year's work will be the most successful since the organization of the club. At the conclusion of the entertainment, light refreshments were served by Miss Wright, Miss Meigs and Miss Nesmith. The affair was under the general direction of Mrs. George F. Richardson.

166 CENTRAL STREET

This Is a Safe Store for the Man Who Wants the Best That Can Be Had In Clothing,

and we offer ROGERS-PEET'S clothes as the best that are made. If we knew of better clothes than theirs, we'd have them.

The distinction between "custom-made" and ready-made, has disappeared with the men who wear Rogers-Peet's clothing—and there are hundreds of men in this class—in Lowell today. If you are not familiar with the merits of this BEST READY-TO-WEAR clothing, it will be distinctly to your advantage to look into the matter.

Come in here and try on the suits; see how they fit; how carefully the garments are tailored; how unquestionably correct these are in style, and in such an examination, remember that not one pattern in Rogers-Peet's clothes can be found in any other ready-made clothing.

You will find that it is much easier to get clothing ready-to-put on than to be measured for it—when you get the right kind; that it's much more satisfactory to see how the suit or overcoat "looks" when it's on, than to guess how the cloth will "make-up"—and these advantages are emphasized when you get clothes as good as you wish for, that fit as you want them to fit, and get them WHEN you want them. The money saving, too, is a real consideration with many men.

Rogers-Peet's Suits

Including real Scotch tweeds, imported Harris Island Homespuns, and the best cheviots from the American mills; colors warranted not to fade, woven through and through, so that there's no wearing off of the face of the cloth. $20 to $40

DR. G. W. TUPPER

Discusses Care of Immigrants at the Y. M. C. A.

G. W. Tupper, Ph. D. was the principal speaker at a conference of employers of labor, clergymen, physicians and others at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening at which the matter of best methods of caring for the laboring men was discussed. President F. A. Bowen of the Y. M. C. A. occupied the chair and in addition to Dr. Tupper there were remarks by W. C. Smith, educational secretary of the state committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island and Dr. Yarnell.

Dr. Tupper's subject was: "The Civic Education of Immigrants" and he spoke as follows:

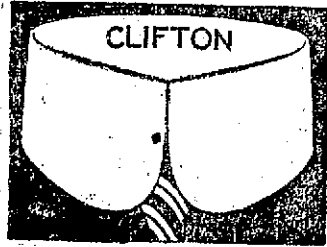

"During the last few years the subject of immigration has attracted unusual attention. The appointment of the special commission on immigration by President Roosevelt in February, 1907, has brought the question even more prominently into public notice. On every hand one sees a curious diversity of opinion as to the human beings entering our national doors, thrusting out most narrow, over populated streets, marring our industries and influencing our body politic. Without doubt the immigrant presents the most complex social problem before the American people today. For he holds the key to our economic welfare, our civic future and largely influences our national ethical standards.

"From the standpoint of numbers, the problem of recent American immigration is stupendous. Familarly alone dwells our conception of its magnitude. Since 1820 over twenty-seven millions have come to our shores. This would populate all New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Sixteen millions (16,000,000) mostly men, have come to us since 1882. Such a migration is the greatest in historic times; 9,771,672 have come during the last decade.

"Early immigration came chiefly from Teutonic stock. First came the people of the British Isles. These were succeeded by Germans, moved largely by the political revolution of 1848. Directly after the Civil war the Swedes began to come. Up to 1882 these races represented the bulk of our immigration. Since that time we have been daily tapping new ethnic springs—southern Italian and Ruthenian, Slovak and Slovene, Greek and Syrian, Japanese and Hindu—in such increasingly large numbers that even the most apathetic patriot is becoming aroused.

"This new type of immigration introduces far-reaching results. About 50 per cent are unable to read and write in any language. The majority represent races of low economic efficiency. Many have just emerged from serfdom. Living standards are far below American ideals. A comparison between the Swedish-German immigrant and the Serbian-Bulgarian type well illustrates this change.

"Until recently the American public has contented itself with a wide spread of optimism concerning the ability of the country to assimilate the diverse interests represented by these various nationalities into one American civic body. We have been told that the lure of the freedom and liberty of our country is in itself sufficient to weld the psychology of these diverse ethnic elements into one mass. And if any additional argument toward a free and easy assimilation was required, we have been told that the compulsory school system was amply providing for the civic education of our latest arrivals. All this, however, must be deemed superficial. Our national environment doubtless does much toward assimilation, but these impersonal forces presuppose and demand patriotic conviction, intelligent plans and systematic effort.

They crowd the already crowded section of our cities. In their own societies they listen to the discussion of problems which interested them in the old world and hence really breathe the air of the little native village long since left behind. Often contact with the American saloon or those who seek the acquaintance of the immigrants for their own gain represents the only type of American influence which comes to them.

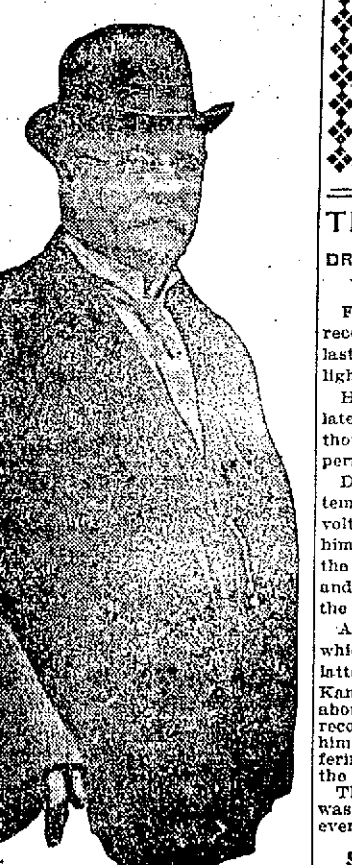

"While the teaching of English is imperative, because ignorance of the English language is often the key to all forms of exploitation, aid in relieving squalid living conditions and instruction in the fundamentals of our civic life ought not to be overlooked. Contact with the adult immigrants of some 20 different nationalities in Massachusetts and Rhode Island convinces me that much can be done in this direction."

Following Mr. Tupper, President F. A. Bowen introduced W. C. Smith, educational secretary of the state committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Mr. Smith spoke on "The Association as a Factor in the Educational or Industrial Workers." Dr. Yarnell also spoke.

JUSTICE WHITE

Who May Head the Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The name of Supreme Court Justice White is suggested as a possible nominee for chief justice, to succeed the late Chief Justice Fuller. It is known that the president is considering Justice White for the place, along with the names of others, including Justice Hughes and Senator Root. So far the president has not made up his mind. It is known, however, that he is taking personal pride in his judicial selections and that he is anxious to select men for the supreme court to keep the court free of criticism and strengthen at all points public confidence in the tribunal.

The Man With the

STEIN-BLOCH COAT

Will be a conspicuous figure this Fall. At the football games, on the street, and wherever men congregate, he will stand out prominently—not as a freak, but as a dresser of distinction.

The D. S. O'BRIEN CO. makes its opening demonstration of Winter overgarments this week. If you attend the football games or drive an auto, you need these garments now—if you do neither, you'll be needing them soon, and the choicest styles and models, that can't be duplicated, will go to the man who anticipates.

If you've never worn Stein-Bloch clothes you've got something coming to you. The masterful tailoring of the Stein-Bloch models, and the exclusiveness of the Stein-Bloch fabrics appeal to the most critical dressers.

Stein Bloch have provided overcoat models to meet the needs of every class of wearers, and the fabrics are especially suited to each particular model.

The STANDARD BOX, for dress and street wear, is a full box coat, 45 inches long, with velvet collar. The fabrics include the staple black and blue kersey, black and oxford vicuna, and fancy chevrons in gray and brown shades.

The CONVERTIBLE AUTO, single breasted, with collar to be worn down, or button up close, is 52 inches long, full box, and is shown in fancy mixture fabrics, in gray, tan and brown shades.

The PARK LANE is a distinctive Stein-Bloch production—52 inches long, with a half belt, fitted at the sides, and a very full, sweeping skirt. This model will appeal to the younger fellows, and is shown in a choice variety of rough faced fabrics in gray and brownish shades.

The RAGLAN and GREAT RAGLAN, 48 and 52 inches long respectively, are big, roomy garments, cut with the raglan shoulder, and shown in several exclusive fabrics in gray and brown tones.

The GREAT COAT, double breasted, is the garment intended for autoing, driving and hard weather wear. It's long, very big and full, and is made from heavy, warm, woolen fabrics. Some have shoulder linings of satin and body linings of worsted.

We could say a whole lot more, but what's the use—a try-on is what these garments deserve—and expect.

THROWN TO FLOOR

DR. HAIGIS SHOCKED WHILE TRYING TO TURN ON LIGHT

FOXBORO, Oct. 21.—Dr. P. J. Haigis received a serious shock of electricity last night from the button of a drop light.

He was rendered unconscious, but later regained his senses, and it was thought that he would not suffer any permanent injuries.

Dr. Haigis went to his barn and attempted to turn on a light. A high voltage of electricity passed through him and he was thrown violently to the floor. He had a grip on the lamp and evidently could not release it, for the lamp cord was torn from its socket.

As the doctor fell he uttered a cry which was heard by Mr. Kane in the latter's place of business nearby. Mr. Kane summoned Dr. Crocker and after about 15 minutes Dr. Haigis began to recover and directed the treatment of himself. Late last evening he was suffering only from exhaustion. Just how the accident happened is not stated. The Central street business circuit was in darkness the remainder of the evening.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended meeting of Court City of Lowell, Foresters of America, was held Wednesday night in Foresters' hall. Lecturer George McKenna announced that the 24th anniversary of the court would be observed on Nov. 18. The anniversary will take the form of a smoke talk and entertainment, at which all the deputy grand chief rangers in Lowell will be present, also the grand secretary. It was also announced by the lecturer that another entertainment would take place the second meeting in January. The auditing committee's report showed a healthy condition of the court.

LARCENY CHARGED COL. ROOSEVELT SILVER WEDDING

Defendant Pleaded Guilty and Offered to Make Settlement

Thrasivoulas Protopoulos, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $50 from "Ieron Tagma." The quoted words are Greek and in English mean the holy regiment, a semi-military organization connected with the Greek Orthodox church at the corner of Lewis and Jefferson streets.

The defendant at first denied his guilt but afterwards acknowledged that he was guilty and agreed to make a settlement and the court decided to continue the case in order to give the man a chance to settle.

Protopoulos was a collector for the Ieron Tagma, and according to the testimony offered and later according to his admission he collected the amount of money mentioned in the complaint and failed to turn it over to the treasurer. He promised to return the money and was given plenty of chance to do so but failed, which resulted in his arrest.

The complaint was made by Michael Proustos, the secretary of the organization, but the only witness heard was Rev. Cotes H. Demetri, pastor of the Greek Orthodox church. He explained to the court that the defendant was a collector for the society and received money which he had failed to turn over to the treasurer (the witness). Books, letters, papers, correspondence and check books were brought into evidence to prove the government's case.

GAME POSTPONED Rain Interfered With Philadelphia-Chicago Contest Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Wet grounds and a drizzling intermittent rain caused a postponement today of the fourth scheduled world's championship game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Nationals. It will be played off here tomorrow. Should Chicago win, the fifth game will be played out on the local grounds also.

Chairman Herrmann made the announcement after the examination of the grounds by the umpires who found that the base lines were small rivulets and the whole field was a sea of mud.

Averages of players and teams based on the three games already played show a big margin in favor of the Athletics. The latter have scored 25 runs to their opponents' nine; they have made 36 hits for a total of 50 bases, as against Chicago's 17 hits for 4 bases. They have had an average of .356, compared with .189 by their rivals. In fielding the Nationals are six points behind the Athletics, their respective percentages being .344 and .350.

The national commission decided that in the event that it is necessary to play a sixth game, it shall be played on Tuesday, allowing Monday for the clubs to make the trip to Chicago.

ORVAL OVERALL SAYS HE HAS PITCHED HIS LAST BIG LEAGUE GAME

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Orval Overall, who has been one of the Chicago Nationals' star pitchers for several seasons, announced last night that he had pitched his last big league game.

"I don't mean that I won't work again in this series," said Overall, "I will if Chicago wishes me, but I won't be a pitcher on the Cub team or any other club next year. I am not going to quit because of anything that has happened in this series or at any time this season. I am just tired of the job and I don't want any more of it."

"I like baseball and would be glad to play any other position. If some one will try me as an outfielder, a catcher, or a first baseman, I may decide to stick to the game a while longer."

DEATHS

HARD—Sarah Frances Whittier

Hard, wife of William H. Hard, died at her late home, 215 Gibson street, this city, Thursday morning, Oct. 20.

She was born in Wells, Me., and had lived in this city since her childhood, and was known and loved by hosts of friends for her kindly and cheerful nature. She had the rare and happy faculty of giving out a warm and cheerful word, and was of the sterling New England type, uniting a mind of unusual keenness and natural shrewdness with a sparkling wit. She had always the sprightly, winning ways of her youth and was always sought and esteemed by the younger people who knew her well. Her work and plans, and her life, were those of a woman of mature years because of her unfailing cheerfulness and sincere sympathy. She was truly a rare woman. Her life was full to the uttermost of cheerful endeavor and of hearty and helpful assistance to others.

She was a member of the Episcopal church, and was a faithful and untiring worker in the Grace Universalist church, bearing an active part in its labors and social interests.

She lived a useful, busy, helpful life, generous, kindly and sympathetic. She died peacefully, leaving to those who loved her a heritage of happy, cheerful recollections of her life and rare worth.

She is survived by her husband, William H. Hard; by three daughters, Lillian, Lillian Whittier Hard and Mrs. James Stuart Murphy, of this city; and by her son, C. F. Hard, of New York city; also by four grandchildren, Miriam B., Portia L., Marjory E. and Stuart Hard Murphy.

DEANE—Edward F. Deane

for the past 35 years a member of St. Patrick's parish and a well known resident, died suddenly at his home, 75 Fourth avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Deane was busy at work at the city blacksmith shop in the forenoon, where he had been employed for many years, but he was not feeling well. On reaching home, a physician was called, and he died almost to stay death, which came a few hours afterward. Mr. Deane is survived by a wife, Ann; three sons, Daniel F., Edward T. and Henry J. Deane; one daughter, Mrs. Michael J. Larkin; several brothers and one sister. He was a member of the local union of blacksmiths.

MARENELL—Mary Marenell

aged 34 years, a former resident of Lowell, died last evening at the Elliot hospital, Keene, N. H., after a long illness. She was the wife of James Marenell, who lost her husband and leaves to mourn her loss her husband and two sons, William Marenell, both of Lowell. The remains will be brought to this city tomorrow morning by Undertakers Jas. F. O'Donnell and Sons.

TARBELL—Died this morning at the residence of his niece, Mrs. George L. Van Dusen, 1039 Middlesex street, Alden B. Tarbell, aged 75 years, 4 months and 21 days. The deceased was a resident of Peterboro, N. H.

FUNERAL NOTICES

DEANE—The funeral of the late Mr. Edward F. Deane will take place on Monday morning at 8 o'clock from his residence, 75 Fourth avenue. Mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock. Arrangements are in charge of J. F. O'Donnell and Sons.

DUNLAP—In this city, Oct. 20, at her home, 51 Norcross street, Mrs. Emma E. Dunlap, aged 64 years. Funeral from the Edison cemetery chapel on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friends invited. Please omit flowers.

TARBELL—The funeral of the late Alden B. Tarbell will take place tomorrow afternoon from the residence of his niece, Mrs. George L. Van Dusen, 1039 Middlesex street. Prayers will be held at the house at three o'clock, after which the remains will be forwarded to Peterboro, N. H., where services will be held Sunday. Friends invited. The funeral will be under the direction of Undertaker C. M. Young.

"JOE" CHRISTO TO RUN AGAINST TIME TOMORROW AFTERNOON

"Joe" Christo, the well known runner, will race against time tomorrow afternoon for a prize offered by a well known Lowell sporting man. The start will be made from the North Billerica postoffice at 2:30 o'clock and the finish will be at the Lowell postoffice. It is confident that he can cover the distance in 20 minutes. A big crowd will witness the feat at the start and also at the finish.

AGED PRIEST DEAD

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 21.—The Rev. Louis Le Tourneau, the oldest priest at Notre Dame university, is dead at the age of 82. Rev. Father Le Tourneau was a priest at Notre Dame for more than a century. His parents came to this country from France in the early days of the last century. They became wealthy and as a young priest he inherited much money which he devoted entirely to charity. One of his gifts to Notre Dame was Corby hall.
